The title and theme of our yearbook this year is Reflections. This is a very meaningful word.

re-flec'-tions — 1. the return or throwing back of rays (light, sound, etc.) from a surface. 2. an image of an object given back from a mirror or other surface. 3. concentration of the mind; careful consideration; meditation.

Examples: mirror images; photographs; drawings; paintings; shadows; meditation; prayer; memories of the past; dreams of the future.

A wise man, a theologian, was once asked to give his opinion of the meaning of life and the purpose of man's existence on Earth. He answered by taking his wallet from his hip pocket, and fished out a small round mirror about the size of a quarter.

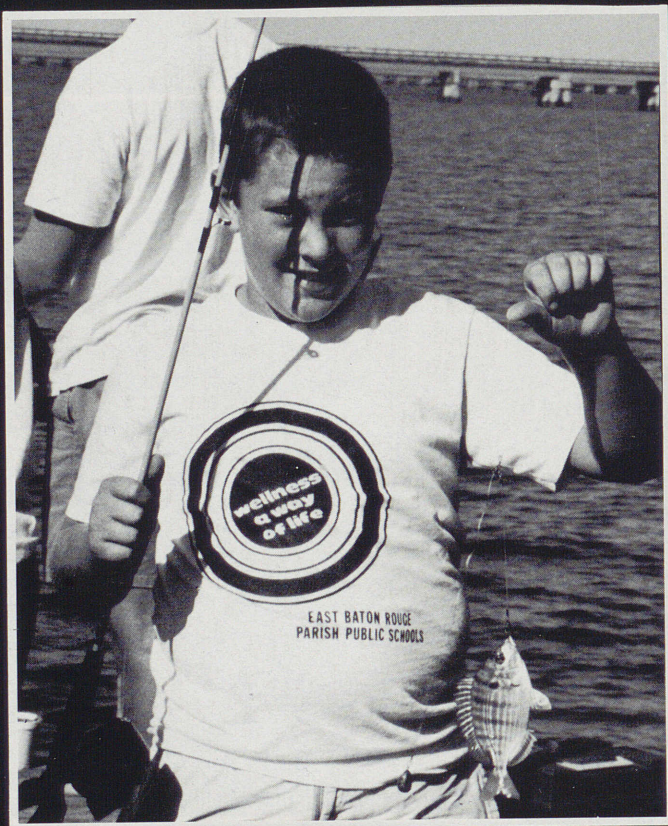

Then he said, "I was a small child in war-torn Europe during World War II. One day, on the road, I found the broken pieces of a mirror. I kept the largest piece. This one. I began to play with it and became fascinated that I could reflect light into dark places where the sun would never shine — deep holes, crevices, dark closets.

"I kept the little mirror, and as I became a man, I grew to understand that this was not just a child's game but a metaphor for what I might do with my life — that I am a fragment of a mirror whose whole design I do not know. With what I have, I can reflect light — truth, understanding, knowledge — into the black places in the hearts of men and change some things in some people. Perhaps others may see what I do and do likewise. This is what I do. That is why we are here."

Reflections are wondrous things. Everywhere you turn in this life, you may find a reflection staring back at you. Some of these reflections are nice; some are not so nice: your reflection in the mirror first thing in the morning; that embarrassing old photo of yourself that you hate but your mom refuses to let you throw it out; your reflection in a pool of cool, clear water on a hot summer day; a silent prayer whispered in a time of crisis; your reflection in the store windows as you walk down a busy city street; that quiet time when you can be alone and have the time to just sit and think.

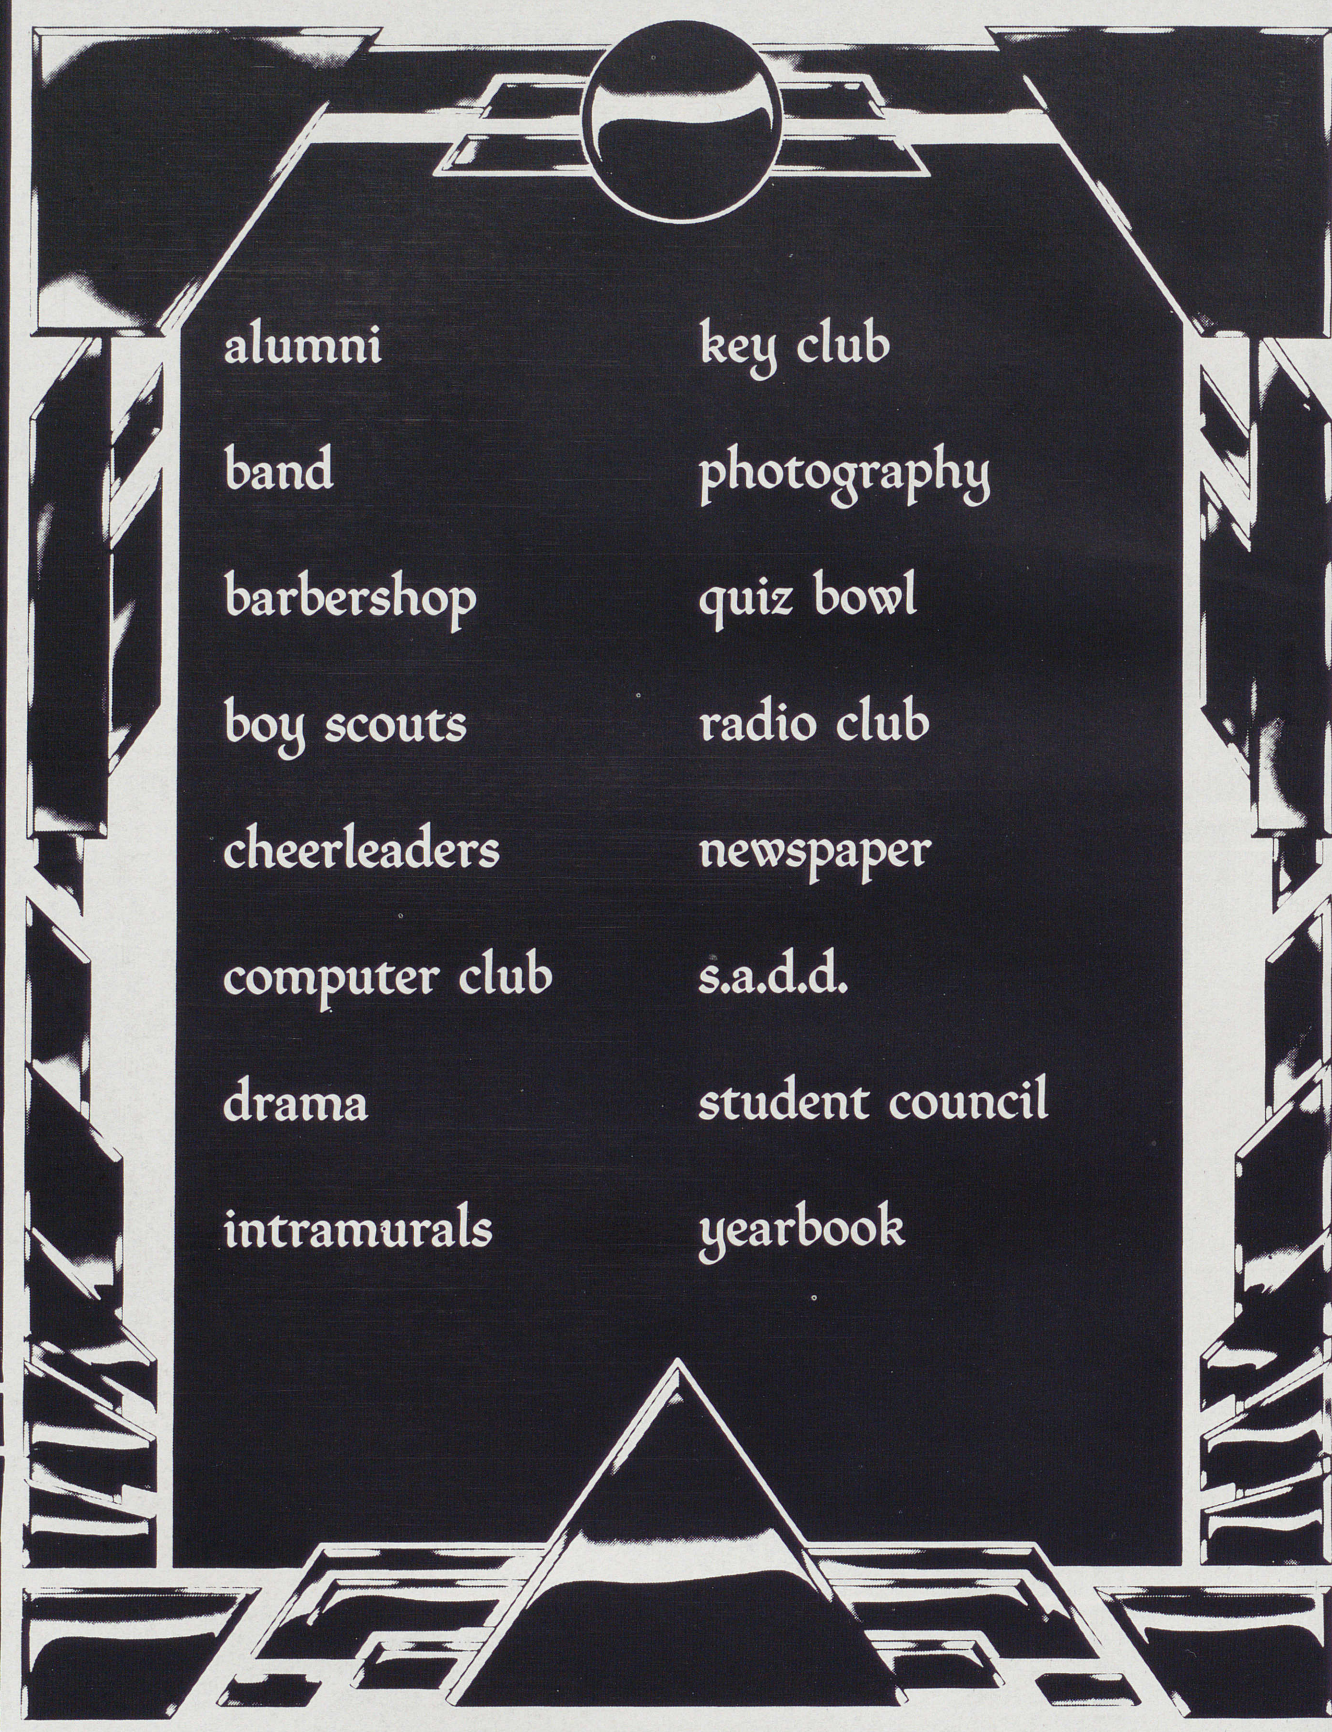

The reflection of the father is found in the face of the son. The reflection of the youth is found in the adult. The reflection of God is found in Man. Reflections are wondrous things.

Alumni

To be an alumnus of St. Stanislaus means a lot. First and foremost in importance, it means that you are a high school graduate. But it also means that you completed your high school education at the oldest educational institution on the Mississippi Gulf Coast and one of the oldest in the nation. Graduates of St. Stanislaus have continued to excel in the careers they chose for the last 136 years. This says a lot about the caliber of students who attend and eventually graduate from St. Stanislaus.

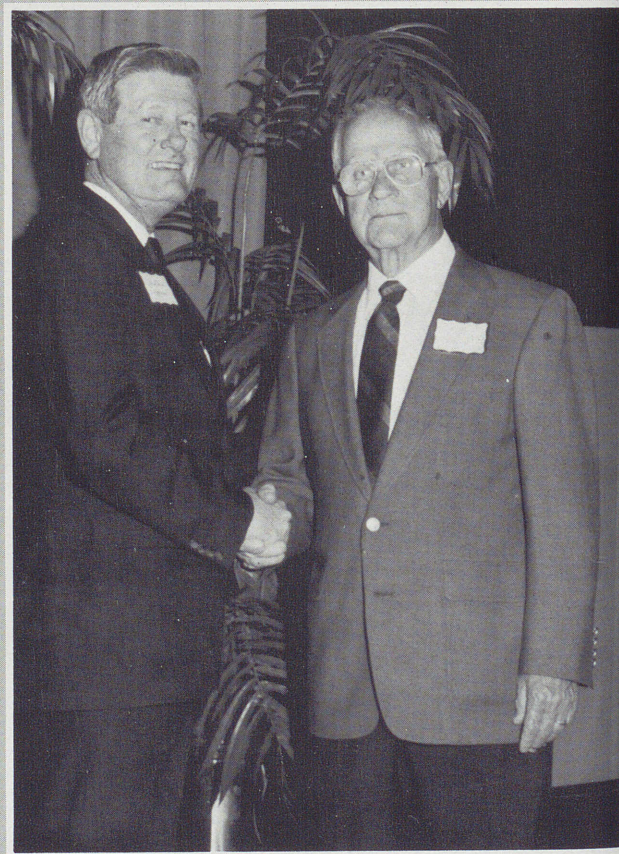

The St. Stanislaus Alumni Association, under the direction of Brother Aquin Gauthier, is one of the most active of its kind in our area. St. Stanislaus alumni have carried on a tradition of excellence and loyalty to their former school. This loyalty is evidenced in many ways. For example, the St. Stanislaus Alumni Association consistently makes up a strong cheering section at the Homecoming game.

Another alumni activity held this year was the Second Annual Invitational Golf Tournament. This tournament was played on the Cardinal Course at the Diamondhead Country Club.

Colonel "Doc" Blanchard, a 1942 graduate of St. Stanislaus, made a generous and inspiring donation to his former school. Col. Blanchard donated the Heisman, Maxwell, and Sullivan trophies he earned while playing for Army in 1945. This type of generous donation is common to St. Stanislaus alumni who feel an attachment to their school many years after their graduation.

The loyalty felt by St. Stanislaus alumni continues to be an ongoing tradition. This loyalty was passed along to the graduating class of 1990 with their induction into the St. Stanislaus Alumni Association.

Do you like going to concerts? Do you always tap your feet when the marching band passes at the parade? If so, you would probably like to be part of the SSC Band.

One thing most people don't know is the amount of pride, dedication, and hard work it takes to make that foot tapping music come out of those instruments.

The Band had a successful and prosperous season. Along with their ten outstanding performances at every football game the band took part in many different contests and parades this year, including State Band Competition where it earned an "excellent" and Tylertown Competition where it won all "superiors" and won overall best drum line. During Mardi Gras, the band marched in the seven mile parade "Centurions." The Band was also asked to play at George Bush's visit to the Coast; quite an exciting experience for everyone in the band. The Christmas and the Spring concerts were excellent examples of just how good the Stanislaus band really is.

The Stanislaus Band works for excellence in all parts of band whether it be marching or concert. During the 1989-1990 school year the band displayed this excellence with a lot of pride and had a very productive year.

Hailing the Chief

The St. Stanislaus Marching Band performed along with five other bands from across the state during a rally attended by President George Bush and other dignitaries in support of Mr. Tom Anderson's quest for a seat in the U.S. House of Representatives. This occasion marked President Bush's first visit to the Mississippi Gulf Coast since his election as President. The band performed as part of the official welcoming ceremony prior to President Bush's arrival.

Mrs. Catchie Choina, Rock-A-Chaw band director, said, "I'm very honored that our students had the opportunity to represent St. Stanislaus."

Most of the band members said they were excited to see the President of the United States in person and to be able to be an official part of the welcoming party. An enormous crowd gathered in Jones Park in Gulfport to see and hear the President.

During his address, President Bush thanked the citizens of the Gulf Coast for their role in helping the City of Charleston recover from the destruction of Hurricane Hugo.

"It may have been 20 years since Hurricane Camille ripped the Gulf Coast," the President observed, "but you still haven't forgotten the horrible damage a hurricane can do."

In an official letter of thanks to Mrs. Choina and the band, the President expressed his appreciation for their participation in the rally.

THE WHITE HOUSE

Dear Mrs. Choina:

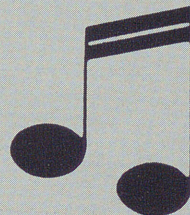

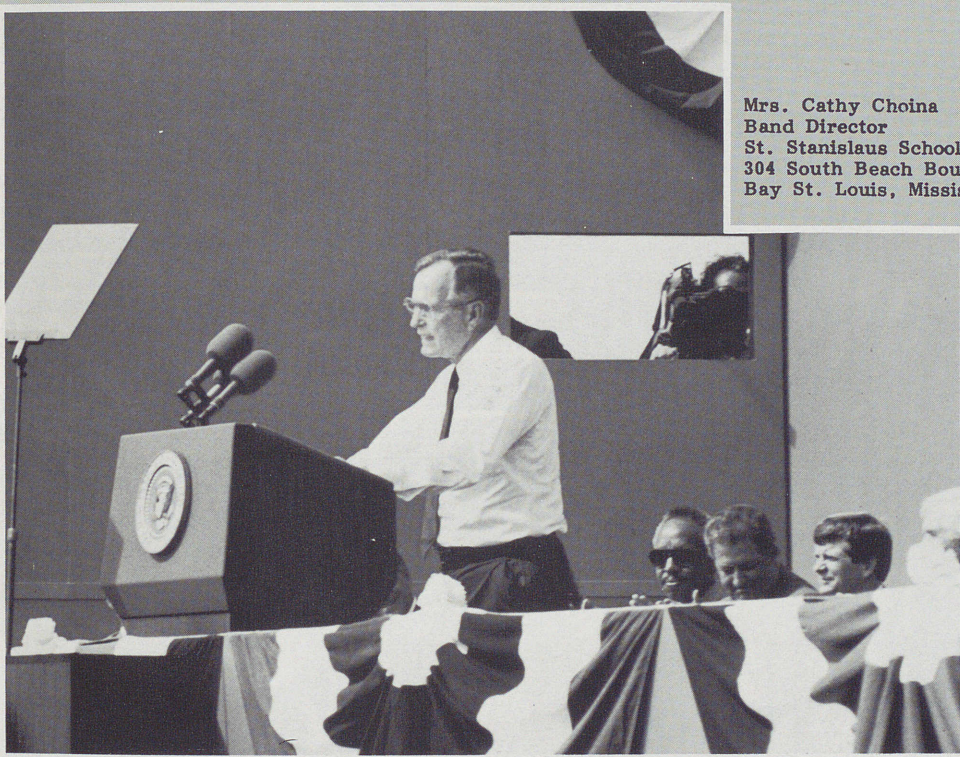

Just a note of thanks for your assistance with the entertainment in Gulfport, Mississippi. Your efforts helped make the program for Tom Anderson a success, and you have my deep appreciation.

Barbershop

When there's music in the air — look for Brother Pierre! Barbershoppers all over America would feel at home here at St. Stanislaus. Bro. Pierre, himself a member of a Barbershop Quartet ("The Bay Four and After") and a Barbershop Chorus Quartet ("The Sea Chords"), has brought his talent and interest in four part harmony to the campus of St. Stanislaus.

Bro. Pierre works with as many as 40 students at a time, developing their vocal talents and encouraging them to lose any shyness they may have in performing. Members of the quartet performed at a variety of school activities including band performances and between acts of the school play. The chorus entertains nursing home patients at Miramar and Hotel Reed Nursing Homes and senior citizens in the Bay St. Louis program. The full chorus wore Santa hats to help the band entertain at the Christmas Program.

The four "voices" that make up a quartet are the lead, bass, baritone, and tenor. The Barbershop Chorus uses the same harmony and the same four "voices" but has more members. Music for Barbershop harmony is so plentiful that songs can be found for almost any occasion.

Boy Scouts

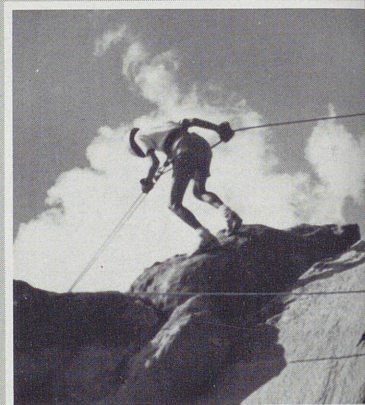

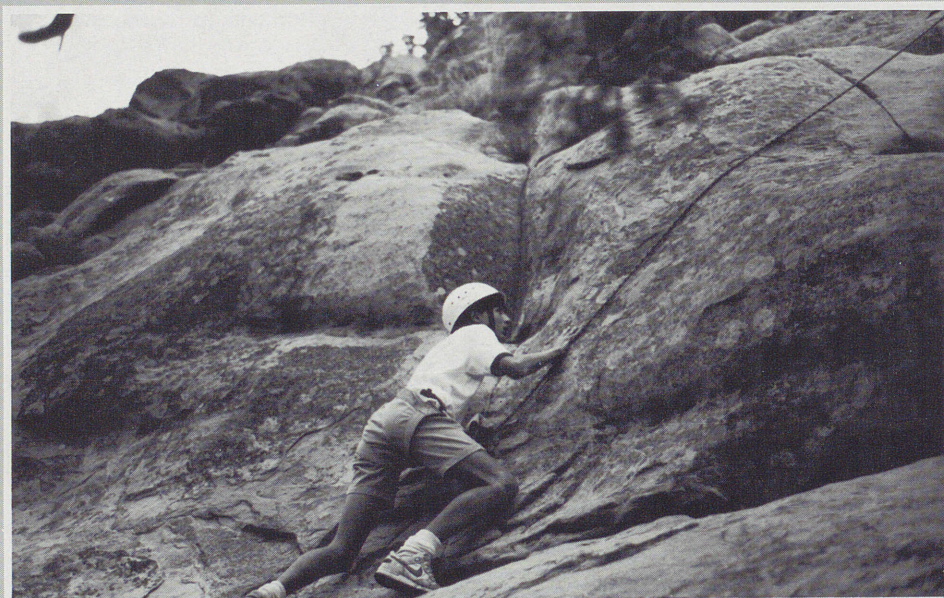

Do you enjoy camping and the fun that goes along with it? Do you enjoy nature and all of its beauties? If you fit these requirements then you should join Boy Scout Troop 86.

Boy Scouts is an organization of young men that teaches responsibility and leadership. Troop 86 executes the teachings of these skills with the utmost precision. Under the instruction of Scout Master Brother Timothy, Troop 86 has advanced many Scouts to the rank of Eagle Scout, the highest rank possible.

Troop 86 schedules a trip, either overnight camping or a day trip, once every month. Some trips which the troop has taken part in have included trips to Flint Creek, U-Bar, Canoeing, and a day trip to the zoo.

The Troop also goes on a number of summer trips. This year a trip to Philmont, New Mexico, which includes a trip by the Grand Canyon, has been planned. This same trip has been made many times in the past by some of the more advanced Scouts. Philmont is a high adventure camp for Scouts which includes several thousand acres of wilderness. Through this camping experience Scouts gain endurance and knowledge of land conservation, along with the peace of mind that comes about as a result of communing with nature.

BOY SCOUTS OF AMERICA

Cheerleaders

The 1989-90 cheerleaders began on a high note. The girls attended cheerleading camp and won "The Spirit Trophy." The captains awards were given to Keith Harrigan and Anna Dean.

Brother Aquin, moderator, never had a dull moment with the lively crew. The cheerleaders were in charge of the pep rallies and had a lot of fun with the memorable balloon shaving contest and especially David Brock's dance to "Old Time Rock and Roll."

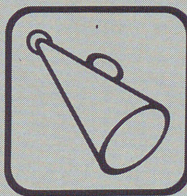

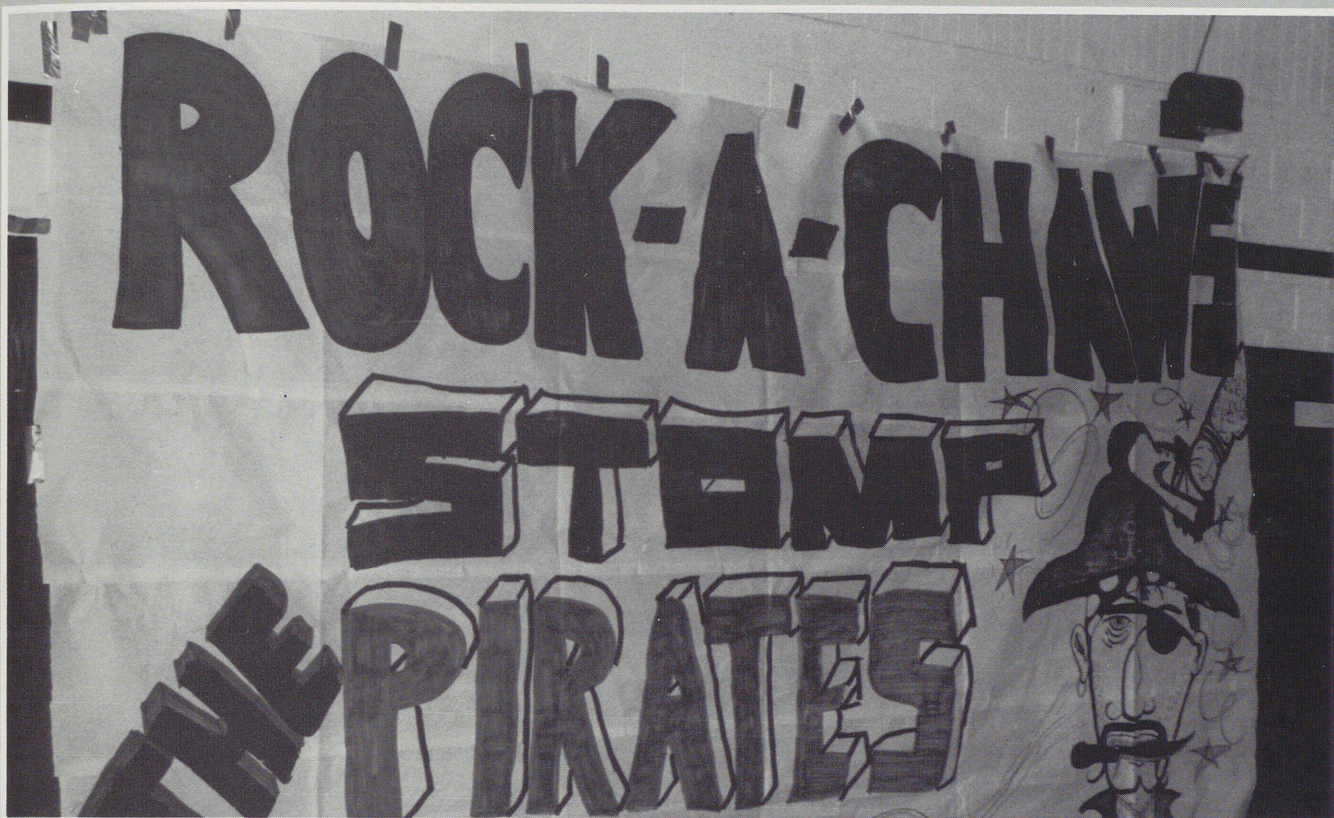

The season closed with a sports banquet and a bestowing of letter jackets to all the cheerleaders in appreciation for all their hard work and dedication to Saint Stanislaus. The season may have ended, but the friendships never did. The cheerleaders continued to go on outings together and fully enjoy one another. The most memorable of these outings was the annual Chappy's feast.

The 1989-90 varsity cheerleaders were: Keith Harrigan (captain), Curtis Cannon, Stanley LeBlanc, Johnny LaBruzzo, Kirk Kimball, Michael Ritten, David Brock, Manning Montagnet, Michael Shannon, Anna Dean (captain), Tina Ryan, Destin Black, Stacy O'Brien, Cindy Pitalo, Laura Haas, Catherine Ohman, and Tami Satchfield.

To sum up the year, the cheerleaders had boosted school spirit, supported the football team, and had an all-around fantastic time doing it.

Computer Club

To some people, the mere utterance of the word "computer" gives reason for them to shriek in horror and run away as if a monster has reared its ugly head and yelled "BOO!" at them. To them, the computer is a mysterious, foreboding machine which seems somehow menacing and beyond comprehension, but not so to the capable members of the SSC Computer Club. These members view the world of computers as one filled with fun, knowledge, and learning. The computer, to them, is a tool to be used in solving puzzles and unlocking mysteries.

The Computer Club moderator, Mr. William Franklin, and the members of the Computer Club have gained the reputation of belonging to an academic organization based on knowledge of computer function.

"Although we have the reputation of being an academic organization," Mr. Franklin said, "the club is really recreational. Any learning that occurs happens in a natural, hands-on manner. Nothing is canned or presented in a strictly structured format."

The Computer Club officers were David Brock, president; Chris Thompson, vice-president; and Steve Lenz, secretary. The outstanding service award was presented to Chris Thompson for his participation and hard work.

Drama

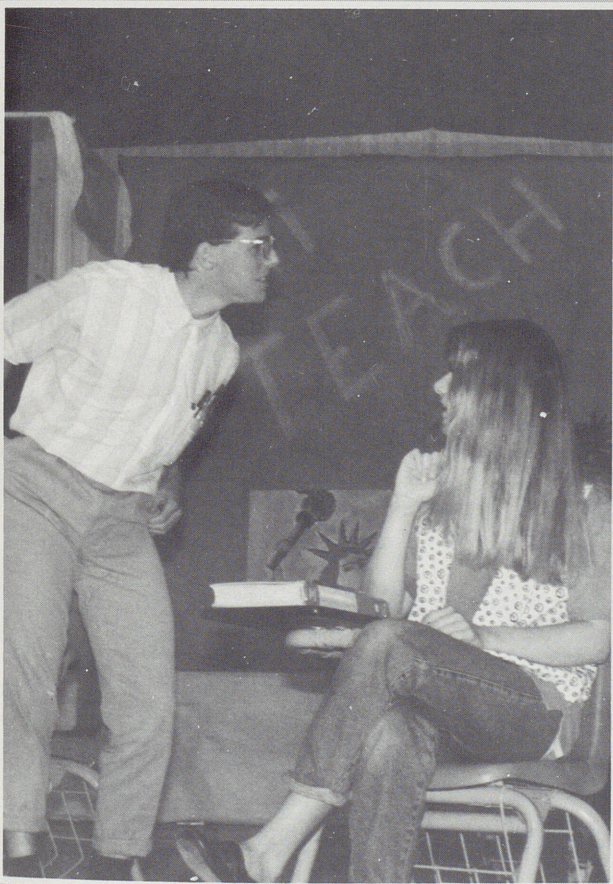

Once again, the Drama Club astounded audiences with their performance in this year's production of "Up the Down Staircase." The play takes place in the New York City school system with a first time teacher, Sylvia Barrett. She was enveloped into a world containing untamed students led by Joe Ferrone, a hard-nosed disciplinarian, Mr. McHabe, and a most intriguing English teacher, Paul Barringer. Sylvia's only sanction was found in a veteran teacher, Beatrice Scachter who offered her advice on how to survive the term. The audience was touched as the unmotivated students of Sylvia's homeroom unfolded and transformed into students wanting an education and was carried from comic laughter to heartwarming tears in the final screen.

The players were: Keith Harrigan, Steve Lenz, Scott Davis, Jason Reitmeyer, Julio Castano, Jonny LaBruzzo, Tres Prats, Lee McKee, David Eckert, Jared Martzell, Ken Booker, August Goulet, Ben Bowen, Anna DeMarco, Laura Hass, Cheryl Willett, Bridgett Dugas, Jennifer Heughan, Stacey O'Brien, Anna Dean, Swanna MacNair, Jeanne Williams, Becky Monti, Cindy Pitale, Becky Parker, Danielle Cronin, Tara Vest, Monica Maillho, Kaaren Kolodziej, Alyson Cousins, and Cissy Randolph.

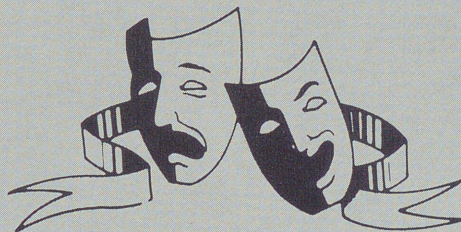

This year's production, under the direction of Mr. Walter Damiens, was such a huge success that the Drama Club has decided to take the challenge of performing a major Broadway musical for next year.

Intramurals

"Playing games can be educational." That is the premise that the Intramural Program here at St. Stanislaus is built upon. A good game of football, basketball, soccer or ultimate frisbee can be found in the Intramural program here at St. Stanislaus.

This year things worked a little different than usual. Instead of each homeroom having its own team, intramurals were handled much like a tournament with anyone who could get up a team being allowed to compete.

Many students showed outstanding ability and great sportsmanship during intramural games.

Intramurals were moderated by Mr. Tom El-dringhoff and Mr. Bill Franklin. Under the very capable hands of these two gentlemen, intramurals ran without any problems, aside from soccer almost being indefinitely postponed because of weather.

Teamwork and leadership are two qualities promoted on the field which will later on in life be vital for them to work well with others and assume the role of leadership without being intimidated by the many pressures.

Many students had a great time this year in what has become one of St. Stanislaus' favorite pastimes.

Key Club

Once again the Key Club has given their service to the community. Officers Marc Distefano, Paul Johnson, and John Estay, Robert Schutt, and Noah Denson along with moderator, Br. John Hotstream led their fellow Key Clubbers into service for others. The Key Club worked with Miramar Nursing Home in Pass Christian providing prayer services, bingos, and a barbecue. The Key Club also sponsored dances for the South Mississippi Retardation Center. The members took it upon themselves to work with an elderly couple in the community by improving the couple's land and home. Brother John Hotstream was able to persuade Key Clubbers to will their time and serve at school banquets.

The Key Club also held the 3rd Annual 5K Bay Bridge Run. Some Key Clubbers attended the international convention in Washington, D.C. The Key Club, with its many members received much recognition at the district convention held in Alexandria, Louisiana. Jeff Taylor was awarded best in Key Club for the tri-state district.

The Key Clubbers gave their time and service to their community and were very much rewarded by the smiles of those they helped.

Photography is a very important part of our campus life which many times goes unseen. It adds a special dimension to the spirit and "soul" of our school as well as to many of its students and faculty. This publication is made possible through the time and devotion given by the photography staff members. They have contributed many long hours both in and out of the darkroom throughout the entire school year.

The 1989-90 photography staff consists of Stanley LeBlanc, George Holder and Chris Delgado. Under the careful guidance of staff moderator, Mr. Tom Ackerman, Stanley, George, and Chris have reached many photographic goals. Mr. Ackerman himself adds much to the photography staff and should be commended for all of his work.

In addition to the yearbook, the photography staff also supplies pictures for the Last Week At Stanislaus board and our school newspaper, The Rock-A-Chaw. Our staff is able to capture on film many of the daily activities that makes our school a unique institution. Many times the staff members go unnoticed, but the "fruits" of their efforts will always be very deeply appreciated.

Quiz Bowl

"In what state is Valley Forge?"

"From what country did the United States purchase the land now known as Alaska?"

"What is the solution of the inequality $2x + 3 > 9$?"

" 'Call me Ishmael' is the first line of what novel?"

If you know the answers to these questions and you have lightning reflexes with which you may beat your opponents to the bell and you thrive on fast paced competition, then you might be pretty good at the competition known as Quiz Bowl. Quiz Bowl has been compared to the game Trivial Pursuit but it can be much harder than that.

The Quiz Bowl team, moderated by Mr. Vernon LaCour, consisted of Chris Kern, Do Nguyen, Mike Wolf, George Holder, Anthony Sperance, Scott Niolet, Joe Williams, Nick Walker, Cliff Ling, Phil Montelaro, and Charles Hillyer. The captain for this year's team was Joe Williams.

The Quiz Bowl team advanced in the WYES Varsity Star Quiz Bowl competition televised in the Fall. In other competitions, the team took on others from Louisiana, Alabama, Florida, and Mississippi. The team also did well in local competitions.

By the way, the answers to the questions above are, in order: Pennsylvania; Russia; $x > 3$; and Moby Dick.

Radio Club

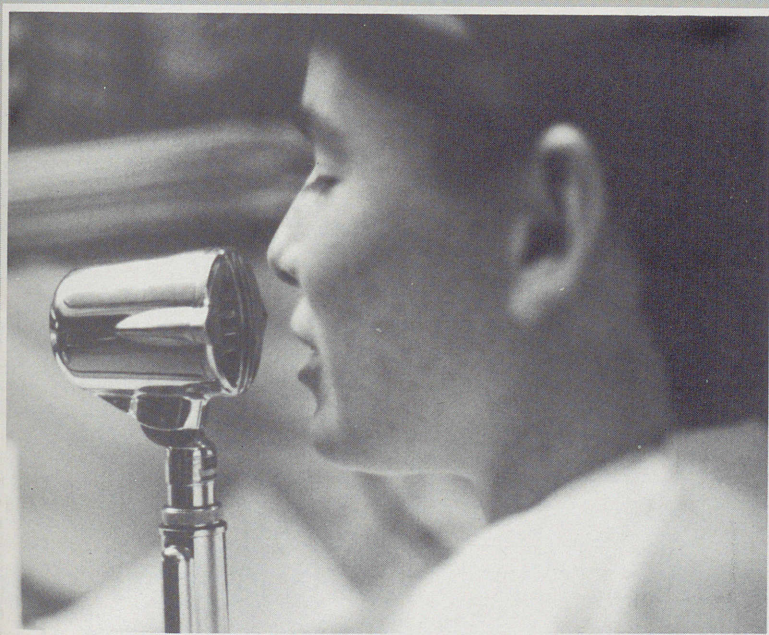

The Radio club combines technical knowledge, contests, and Morse code into one word — FUN.

Club members attended hamfests in Biloxi, Mississippi, Lafayette, Baton Rouge, and Hammond, Louisiana. The Radio Club, moderated by Brother Eduardo Baldioceda (WJ5C), has been active in many ways. The "HAMS" assisted the Key Club during its 3rd Annual 5K Bay Bridge Run by providing communications between both sides of the bay.

Some Radio club members attended Ham radio conventions where they purchased radios for their own use. Setting up antennas for these radios provided yet another activity for the twelve members of the Radio club.

Many young "HAMS" competed the Novice Roundup, a contest for novices. One "HAM," Geoffrey Kohl (KB5HWL), won first place in Mississippi and in the Delta Division. Four "HAMS" studied during the year in order to upgrade a class "TECHNICIAN" class. Holman Wright, Scott Clements, Tom Winthrop, and Geoffrey Kohl all graduated to "TECHNICIAN" class.

With the help of other members some "Hams" were able to set up stations in their homes. The members are well on their way to achieving the goals of Amateur Radio — technical knowledge, operational skill and an increase of international good.

Newspaper

Thanks to the guidance of Mrs. Ann Kortman and Mr. Bill Conery, and senior editor Warren Latham, the school newspaper, The Rock-A-Chaw served another successful year at St. Stanislaus. This is the second consecutive year for the paper's existence after being reborn from a many year absence at St. Stanislaus. The newspaper complemented the L.W.A.S. display and the school yearbook, Reflections, through a monthly account of our Stanislaus family life. The reporters were primarily members of the journalism class, but other interested students contributed many articles as well. Many students stated opinions and discussed current issues in the "Letters to the Editor" section. The photography staff helped in supplying visual displays for the paper.

Wherever there was a Rock-A-Chaw, a reporter would not be very far behind. The paper did an excellent job in giving individual members of our school the credit they deserved.

Realizing the dangers of drinking and driving, St. Stanislaus organized its own chapter of S.A.D.D., which stands for Students Against Driving Drunk. This year, S.A.D.D. was as active as ever. All during the year, red ribbons were placed on students' cars to remind them not to drink and drive. During the homecoming pep rally a large Contract For Life was posted on the wall of the gym and everyone was encouraged to sign it. S.A.D.D. members also held a car wash to raise money. S.A.D.D. placed a wrecked car, which was all but destroyed from a drunk driving accident, outside the school to illustrate to students the dangers of driving drunk.

There were several school functions held during the year to back up S.A.D.D.'s many messages. The Pepsi company gave a multi-media presentation entitled "Choices" to the entire school body, which dealt with the many aspects of drugs and alcohol. The school administration also dealt with the problems of drugs and alcohol by introducing a policeman and a drug-detecting dog to send the message to the students and community alike that St. Stanislaus is and will remain a drug-free campus.

We at St. Stanislaus have in the past felt the sting of the consequences of drunk driving. S.A.D.D. continues to prove to be a "driving" force in helping students not to drive drunk.

Student Council

The function of the Student Council is to be the official channel through which the student body voices its opinions.

This year, the officers of the Student Council returned to the academic school year abounding with enthusiasm. This enthusiasm helped them to accomplish many things. Activities varied greatly this year from small projects around school to large community service activities.

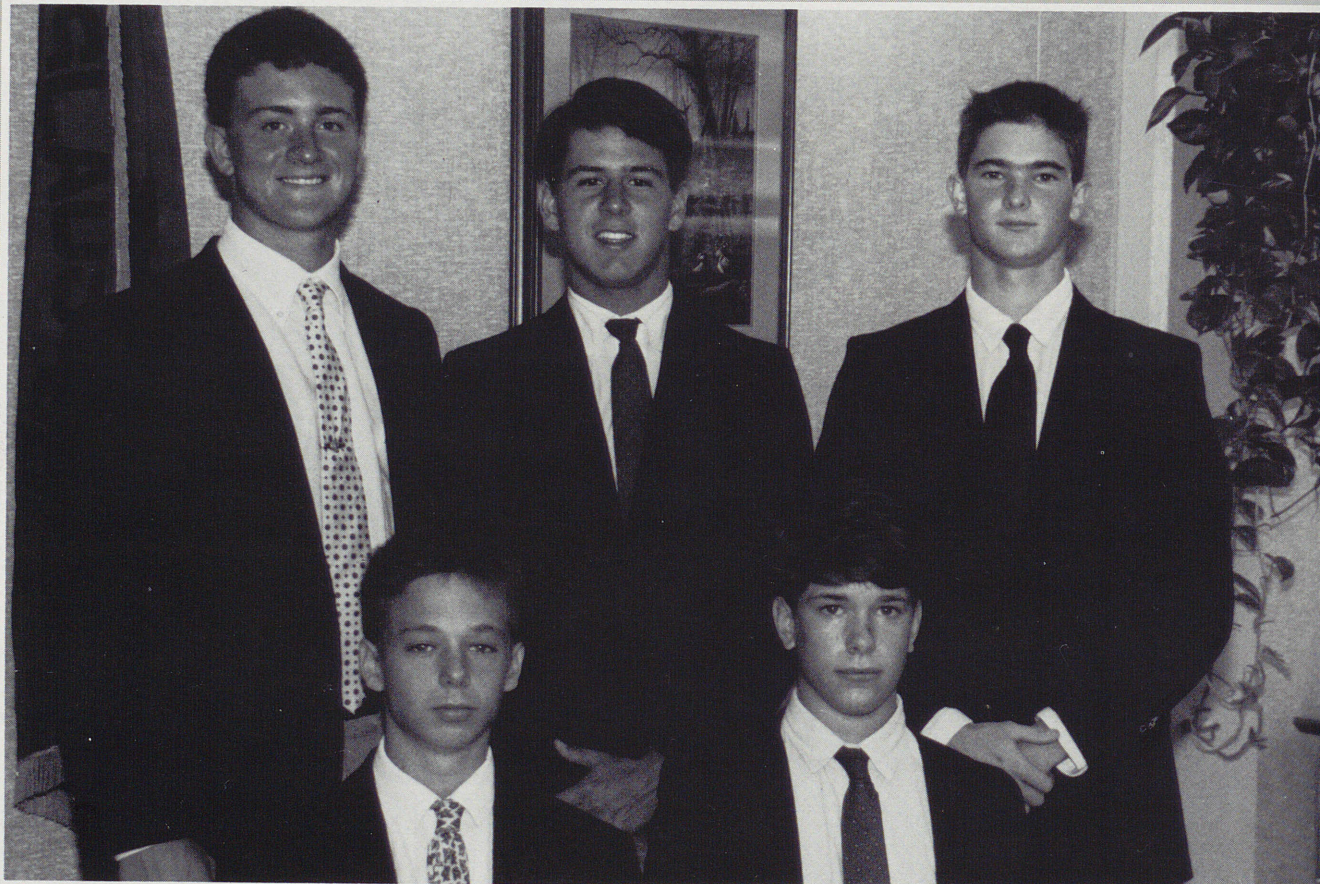

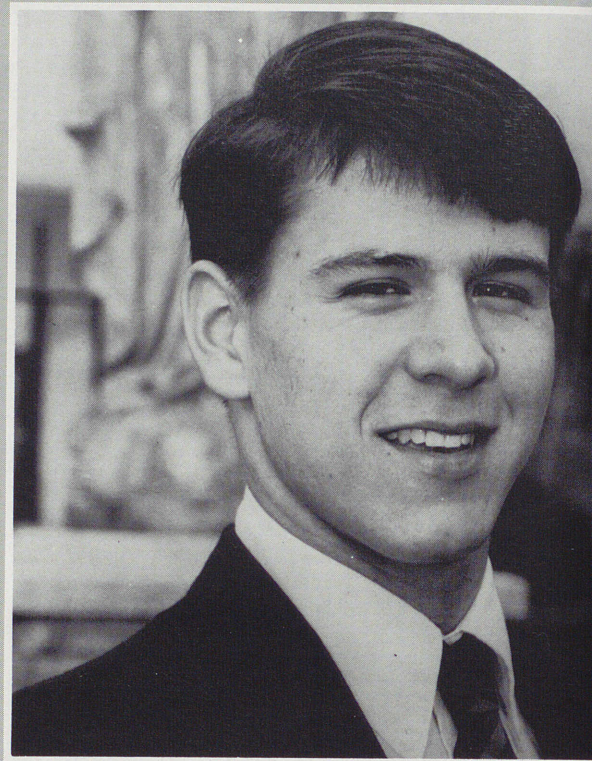

Just a few of the projects and new policies influenced by the Student Council were a bowling party, implementation of Senior privileges, Thanksgiving Baskets (35 delivered this year), Homecoming Pep Rally and Dance, a fishing rodeo, Table Tennis Tournaments, Pool Tournaments, and of course, the major service project — the Lenten Giving Fund. Money raised by the students was earmarked for use at St. John the Baptist School, the Brother's mission school in Montgomery, Alabama.

A very special blessing occurred to the Student Council when it won $2,000 in the annual SSC $10,000 raffle. This money was generously divided between an alumnus of SSC and Stuart Favre, both of whom are in need of medical assistance.

When asked to comment on the school year, Student Council President Noah Denson said, "The year saw many students' wishes granted through closer communication and, therefore, closer cooperation between the student body and the administration."

The 1989-1990 edition of the St. Stanislaus Student Council was again moderated by Mr. William Jennings. Officers were Noah Denson, president; Marc Distefano, first vice-president; Paul Johnson, second vice-president; John Estay, secretary; and Adam Breerwood, treasurer.

Yearbook

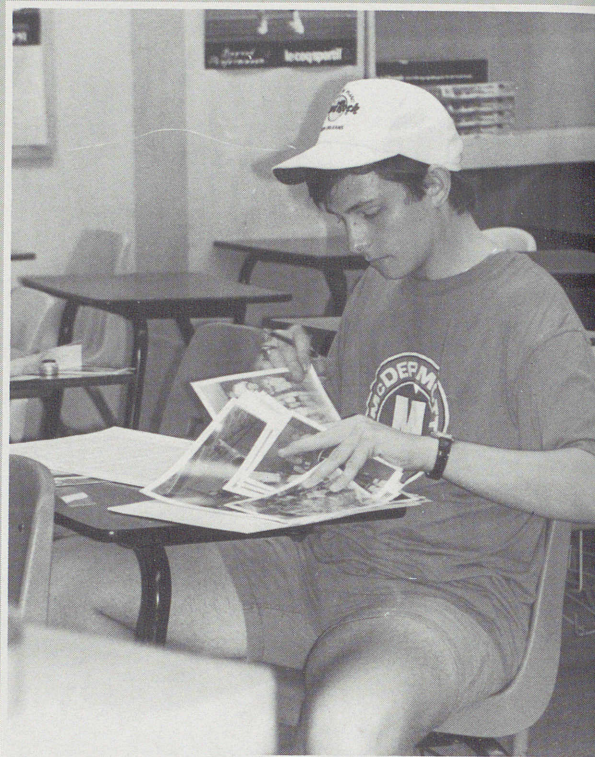

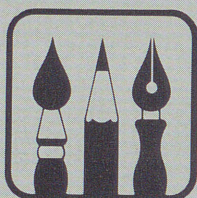

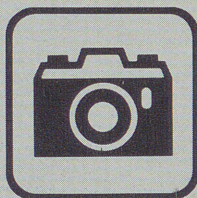

You have never known panic until you have lost your pica ruler. At certain times of the year, those things are like gold to the workers in the yearbook office. That many sound odd to you but ask any yearbook staffer, and he will tell you that taking another staffer's pica ruler without his permission is a serious faux pas which will get you technicropped and stapled to the bulletin board. It's not a pretty sight.

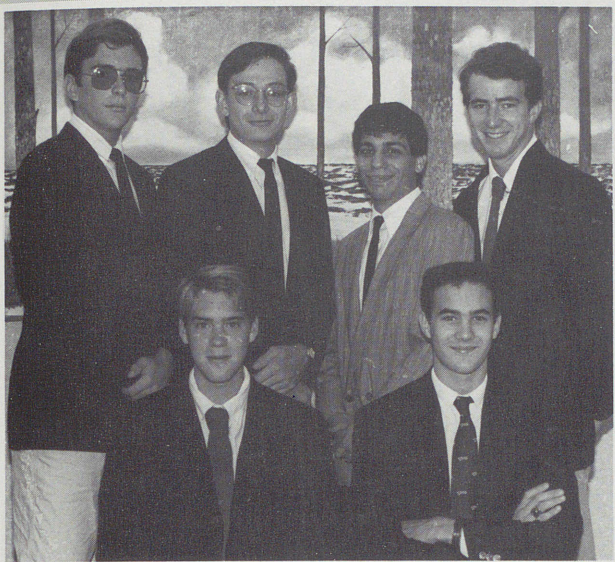

A yearbook staffer can be found easy enough. He will be the one standing in the corner, nervously biting his fingernails, clutching a pica ruler tightly, and growling suspiciously at those who pass.

The staff of Reflections '90 once again attempted to capture the spirit and essence of St. Stanislaus with an additional attempt to maintain and improve upon the high standards and quality of the books of years past. The staff also attempted to keep their sanity in the face of adversity. Under the direction of Editor-in-Chief Chris Kern, this year's edition was compiled by a brave, hardworking staff who faced deadlines, technical hangups, and pica ruler thieves with grace, dignity, and a sense of humor.

Senior Editors for Reflections '90 were Jimmy Watts, Stanley LeBlanc, Cliff Ling, and Chris Kern. These editors oversaw the production of the book to ensure a wide coverage of school activities and individuals. The yearbook moderator was Mr. Will Clington, who oversaw the editors to keep them from spilling their Catalina pizza dressing on the computer keyboard. Mr. Clington also spent a good deal of his time in the corner, growling at those who even looked at his pica ruler.

SPECIAL MOMENTS

Homecoming

Every year Homecoming week is full of excitement at St. Stanislaus. In that respect, the 1989-1990 Homecoming Season was no different than any other year. The Homecoming court this year was queen, Cissy Randolph, and maids, Destin Black, Stephanie Kirk, Derene Ware, and Caurer Zito.

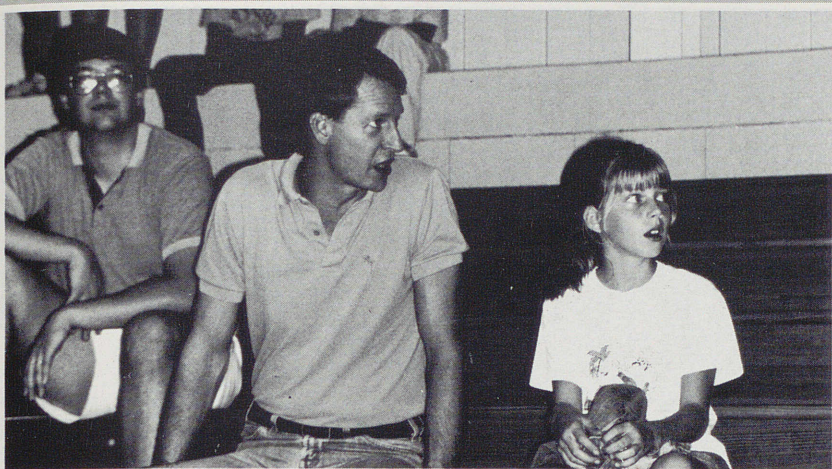

Thursday night was the big Homecoming pep rally with lots of competition between grade levels. With as much spirit as was exhibited at the pep rally, the football team was ready for the big game against Long Beach.

On Friday night it became evident within only minutes of the start of the game that the Rocks were going to crush the Long Beach Bearcats. Spirits were high, and all the alumni who attended the game were quite pleased with the performance of the Rocks.

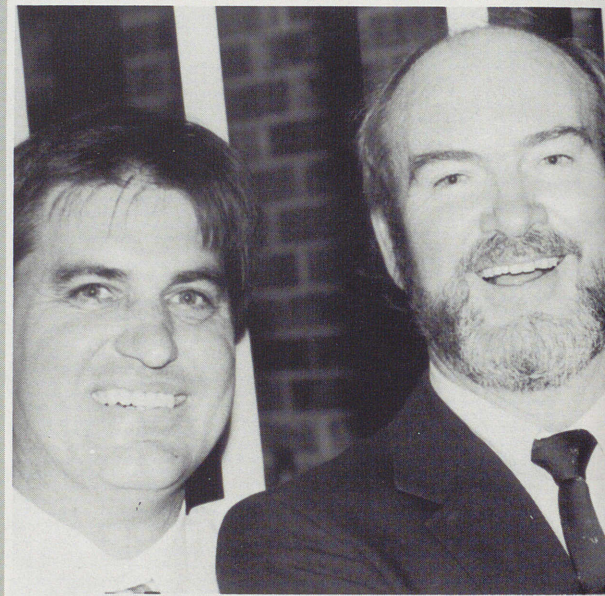

All the students who went to the dance Saturday night, held in the Student Union, were pleased with the decorations and the music provided. Everyone had a wonderful time as Homecoming week came to an end.

Pep Rallies

Your shirt is soaked with sweat; your ears are ringing; your vocal chords feel ruined; your face is flushed; and you feel exhilarated. There has got to be something seriously wrong with you, right? No, not really. What you are feeling are merely the after-effects of a St. Stanislaus Pep Rally.

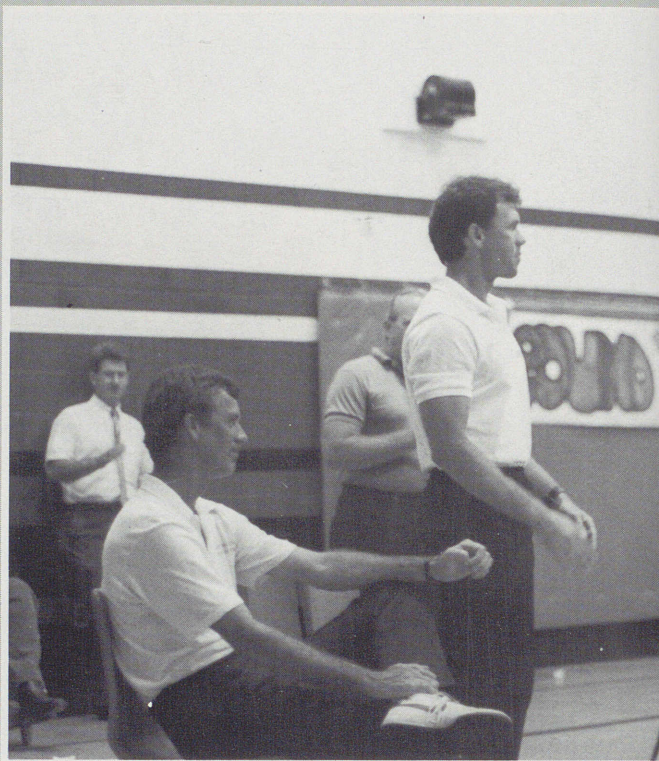

Pep rallies are supposed to "pep" up the spirits of the players and get them ready for a game. However, the fans always seem to be the most "peppy," some to the point of being in a "pep rally frenzy." At no other time in the year is school spirit so high as during a pep rally. The walls of the gym resound and vibrate during the cheering contests between grades. The hoots and hollers in response to the antics of the cheerleaders and others on the floor sometimes seems to raise not only the players' spirit but also the roof of the gym.

Many players were recognized for their contributions to the team and the victories they enjoyed.

One of the more memorable events which occurred at pep rallies this year was David Alexander's one man pie eating contest. David did quite well against the competition. Another memorable event was David Brock's rendition of "I Like That Old Time Rock-n-Roll." Of course, David looked cool in his shades and boxers. Whatever the event was, it was sure to entertain and amuse!

So, the next time you are feeling down and need pep-ping up, throw yourself a pep rally. Get a bunch of your friends together and yell, scream, cheer, hoot, holler, and if they don't lock you up, I guarantee you will feel better. There's nothing like a good "pep rally frenzy" to get you pepped up!

Student Masses

St. Stanislaus is made up of many traditions. The most lasting and vibrant tradition is in its Christian faith. A faith in Jesus Christ must be celebrated and shared in the community. The student body masses have always been a opportunity to highlight the students' talents, spirit, and spiritual growth. On a monthly basis, the Resource Center was transformed into an area for celebration and worship. Various classes volunteered to lead the different masses. Students showed leadership through their readings, songs, banners, and their prayerful example.

To symbolize that the ground that we walk on is holy, students were asked to remove their shoes during some of the masses. During one of these masses Mr. Damiens did a beautiful rendition of the song "On Holy Ground." Mr. Tom Ackerman, Mr. Tom Eldringhoff, and Brother James were the primary faculty coordinators for the masses.

One of the main messages delivered during the masses this year was that Christ is the same yesterday, today, and tomorrow. The celebration in our liturgies is a wellspring of inspiration and communal interaction. Throughout the school year the entire St. Stanislaus community focuses on the liturgy of the Word and the Eucharist. Many gifts of leadership, creativity, and music have been used in these celebrations. Different groups and classes have shared their musical and creative talents to help celebrate our school's most lasting presence — Jesus Christ.

FACULTY AND STAFF

Faculty and Staff

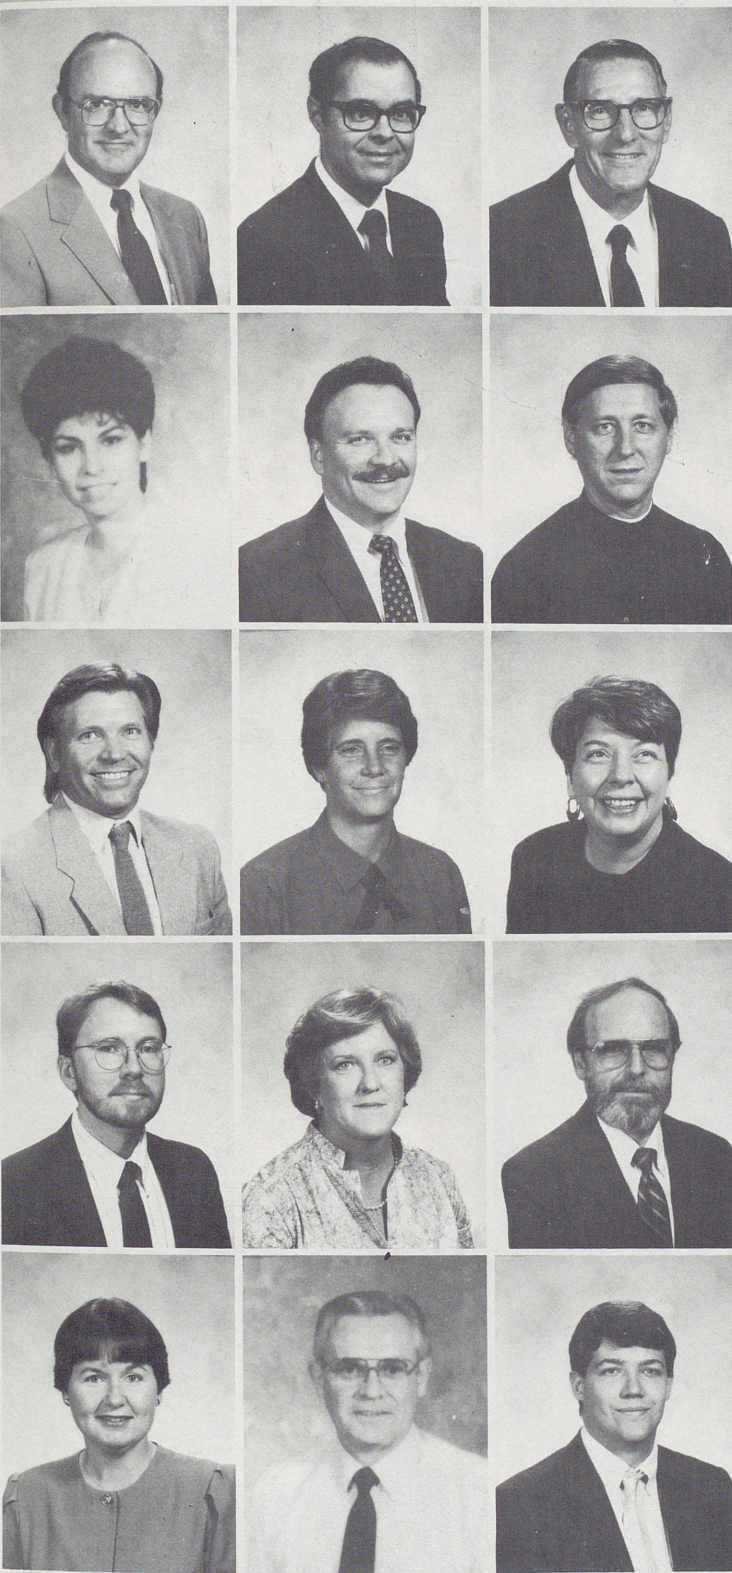

Since the founding of St. Stanislaus College one hundred and thirty-six years ago, the Brothers of the Sacred Heart have instilled in the thousands of young men that have attended the school a well-rounded Christian education. For most of the school's existence, the Brothers made up a majority of the faculty. But with a decline in the number of Brothers and with an increase in student enrollment, lay faculty members began to be added to assist the Brothers in their mission. Together, these men and women take on the job of operating the school. This is not an easy task, but dedicated to their work and their mission in Life, the Brothers, the Faculty, and the Staff make it look not only easy but also enjoyable.

St. Stanislaus has had a long tradition of gathering together a faculty and staff made up of people who are the best at what they do. This tradition continues under the administration of Brother Paul Montero (right). Brother Paul is assisted by Brother Noel Lemmon, Dean of Students; and by Dr. Michael Ryan, Academic Assistant Principal.

Graduation

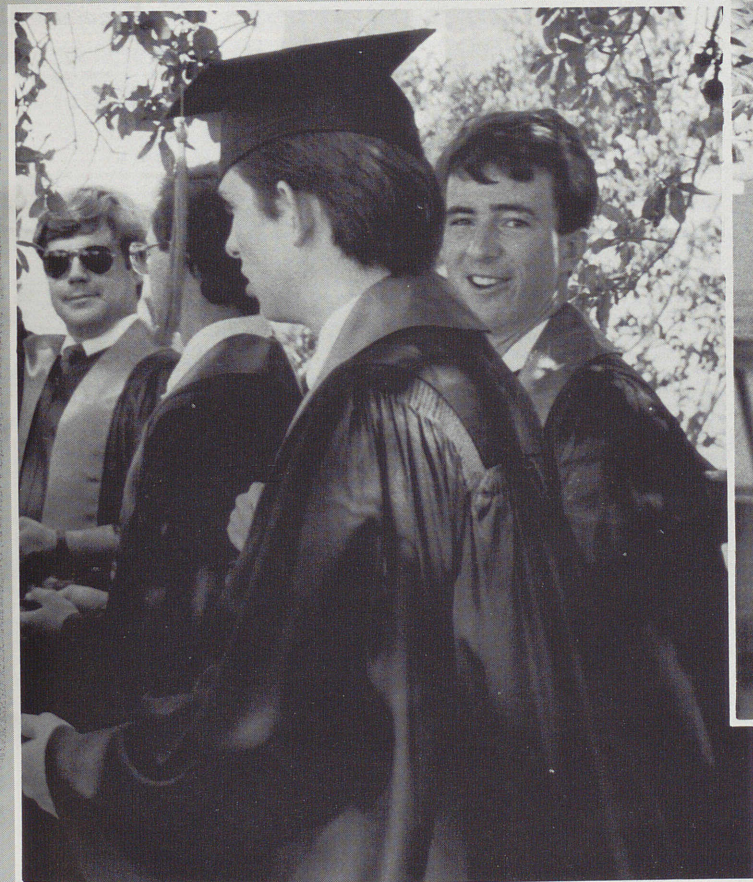

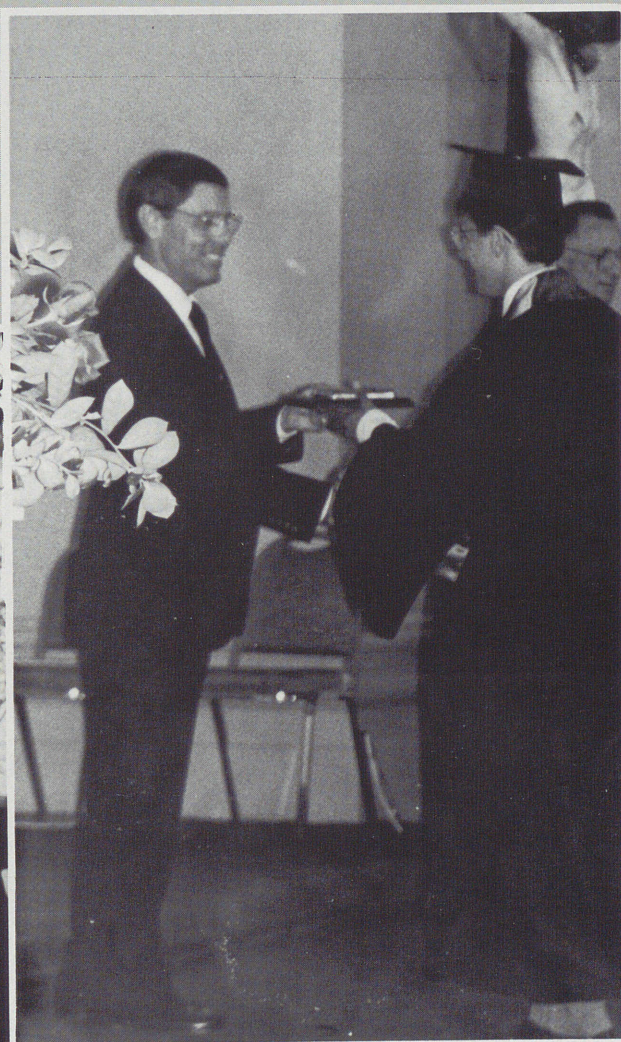

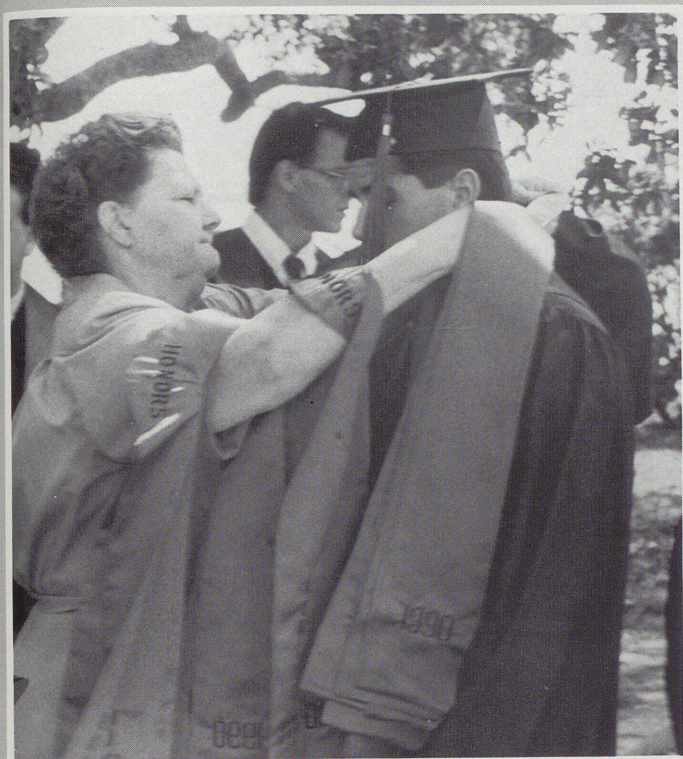

June 2nd was the day that the class of 1990 had been looking forward to not only all year, but for all of their lives. They looked forward with anticipation and maybe even a little bit of fear. This was graduation day. This was the day that the class of 1990, the 136th graduating class of St. Stanislaus, left to go their own ways and seek out new horizons.

The commencement ceremony took place precisely at 11:00 A.M. in the beautifully decorated Our Lady of the Gulf church. The graduating class did an excellent job of singing during the mass, as many people complimented later. Brother Paul Montero presented each of the 79 seniors with their diplomas. As each senior walked off the altar, either Mr. Damiens or Brother John moved the tassels from the left to the right side of the seniors caps to signify the change which had taken place.

The seniors were now graduates and alumnists (they were inducted into the alumni association Friday night at a banquet) in the rich tradition of St. Stanislaus College.

Big Brother/Little Brother

The answer: "He can be both the world's worst pest and also your best friend at the same time."

The question: "What is a brother?"

This answer and question could be straight from yesterday's Jeopardy show. It describes with a degree of accuracy the relationship most brothers share, even "Big Brothers" and their "Little Brothers."

The Big Brother/Little Brother program here at St. Stanislaus was begun a few years ago by Mr. Mick Quinlan. The program pairs up "Little Brothers," mostly sixth and seventh graders, with "Big Brothers" who are seniors.

"The program gives the little guys someone to show them the ropes, or just a friend to talk with," explained Mr. Quinlan. "Over the years, I've watched the program grow into a big success and this year was no exception."

Among the highlights of this year's program was the opening ceremony with a reception for the "brothers" and their families in the mall. Later in the year, the Big and Little Brothers got together to form a very vocal and enthusiastic cheering section at a home basketball game.

Throughout the year, it was not unusual to see a Big Brother sitting and sharing part of his brown bag lunch with his Little Brother, or, to see the two taking part in a playful game of tag. This closeness would never have been possible without the Big Brother/Little Brother program.

"Two very special days . . . away from school . . . away from daily activities, involvements, and distractions . . . with time to relax, reflect, renew yourself spiritually, recreate . . . time to make new friendships among your classmates and to strengthen already existing friendships." Upon their return, most seniors agreed that this was a very accurate description of the retreat experience. Some even said that the retreat was even better than they had expected, and that this description did not do justice to the rich and rewarding experience called Senior Retreat.

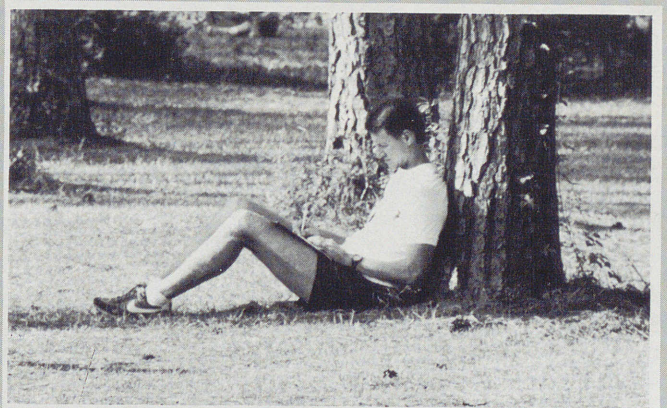

"We went into the retreat literally not knowing some of our classmates." senior Rick Haas later said. "But after those two days, we began to feel a togetherness and some common bonds. Sharing something personal with someone else helps you feel closer to them."

The seniors attended their retreat held at Holy Redeemer Mission Center in LaCombe, Louisiana, on October 2 and 3. Brother James, who served as coordinator, joined the other retreat team members in making the retreat very special.

Senior Kevin Bernard said, "At the end of the retreat, we exchanged wooden crosses with our prayer partners. That was an emotional time and a very nice way to end the retreat."

RING MASS

The ring or circle is a universal symbol of unity, eternity, and strength. At St. Stanislaus a ring is also a symbol of accomplishment, pride, and tradition. This ring is, of course, the Senior Class Ring.

The class of 1990, the 136th graduating class of St. Stanislaus, received their rings at a special Mass and ceremony held in Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church on August 31, 1989. Father William Kelly, S.V.D., rector at Divine Word Seminary, was the celebrant of the Mass. Brother Paul Montero, assisted by Brother Noel Lemmon and Dr. Michael Ryan, distributed the rings to the seniors. After the ceremony, a reception was held in the student union, where the SSC Parents served refreshments.

The seniors admitted that wearing the rings requires some adjustment. One senior was quoted as saying, "At first, the weight of a solid gold ring the size of New Hampshire is tough to get used to; but, after a while, you feel naked without it. We wear our rings every day. Most of us never take them off. It's part of what makes us Seniors."

SPORTS

Varsity Football

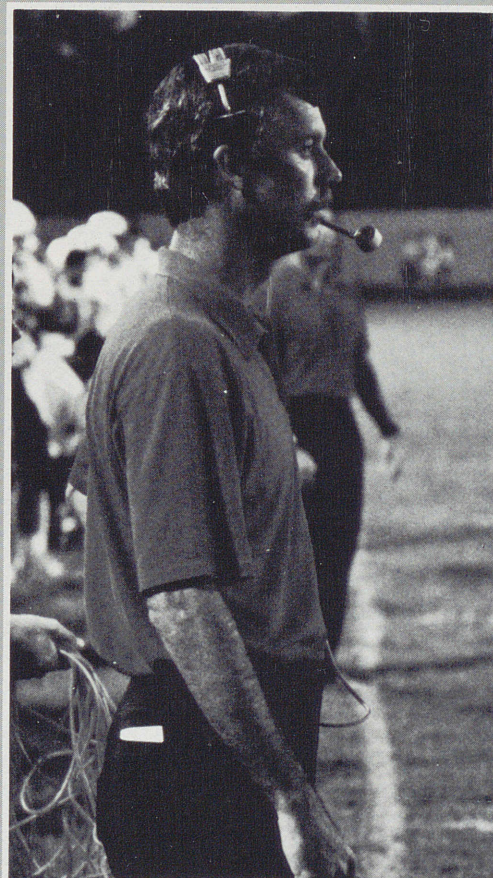

"Hut, Hut," CRUNCH! These are very familiar sounds to the few, the proud, the Saint Stanislaus 1989 Varsity Football Team. The football squad represented us with a lot of pride and hard-fought wins. (5 wins and 5 losses) They showed their stamina and their outstanding skill of the game on the field. The Rocks went to a state play-off game after the regular season. The Rocks did well in the game, but they fell to a dominating opponent.

Some of the accomplishments of our Varsity Squad this year include victories over Pass Christian, East Central, Long Beach (HOMECOMING), St. Mary's and of course, our crosstown rival, Bay High for the third year in a row.

The Varsity Football team will lead this year by some talented seniors. With the seniors going on, we wish the football program for 1990 the very best of luck in its future endeavors.

Varsity Basketball

Dribbling, walking, rebounding, and traveling. These are the terms used in the game called Basketball. Huge men flying down the court, bouncing a basketball, using offensive and defensive techniques, shots being attempted, slamdunks — all of these call to mind the excitement felt during a Stanislaus Basketball game. The Rocks Basketball team worked so hard that they paved the way to the South State Play-offs. This is the first time that they have accomplished this since 1957. Many Rocks helped bring the team to State.

The All-Tournament consisted of Cedric Smith, Greg Schruoff, Ken Booker and Chris Perronne. During the year Shannon Garrett scored 18.6 points per game followed by Greg Schruoff with 12.6 points per game, and Chris Perronne with 12.4 points per game. Shannon Garrett was voted district M.V.P. for 1989-1990 season.

The Rocks took first place honors in the Hancock County Tournament and second in the D'Iberville Tournament. Coach Genin stated at the end of the season, "The Seniors have worked hard since Junior High to get to the play-offs. I'm glad they reached their goal." The rocks closed the 1989-1990 season with an 11-7 record.

Varsity Soccer

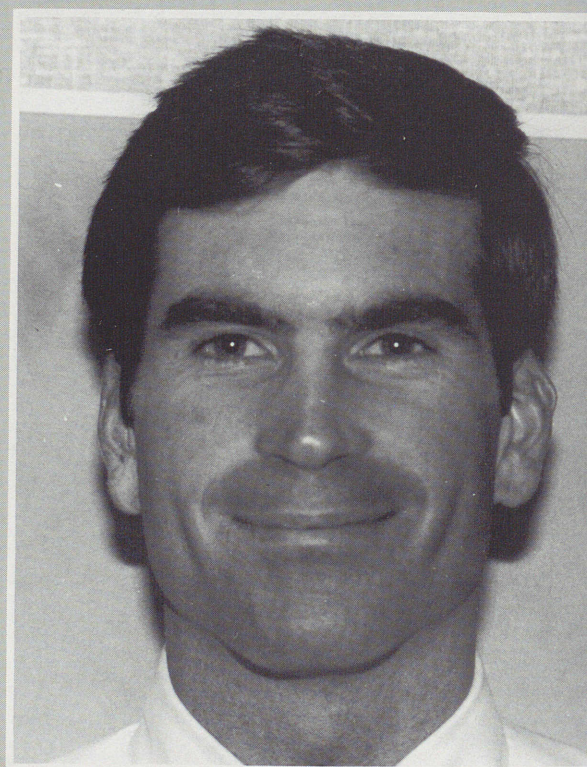

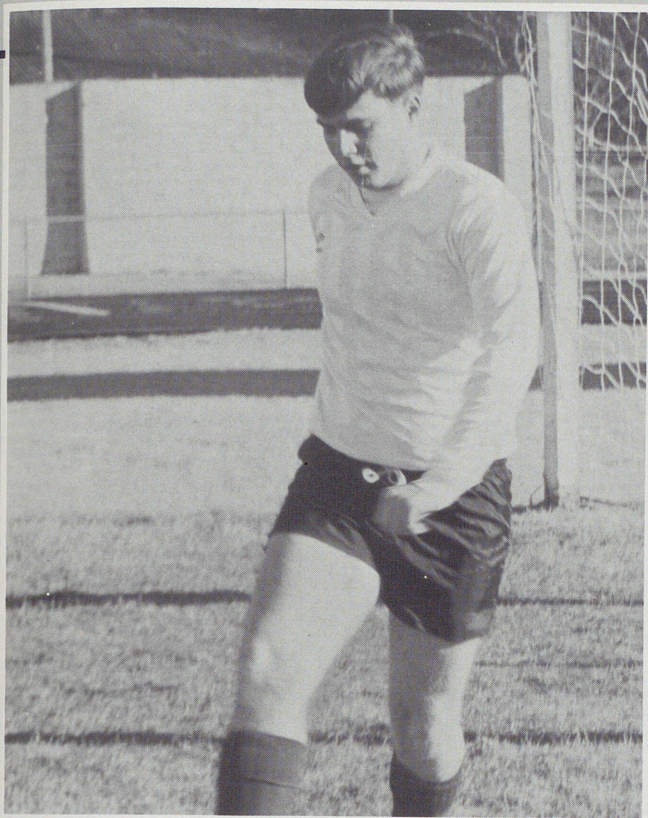

It is the most popular field game in the world. In Europe and elsewhere it is known as football, but in the United States it is known as soccer. Here at Stanislaus we carry on the tradition which has sparked such emotion among not only the players, but the fans, to cause fatalities in a rush to see the action at games in England and in other parts of Europe. Here at Stanislaus emotions don't run quite that high, but fans at a Stanislaus soccer game are always guaranteed a fast paced exciting game.

The SSC soccer team completed the third season with a winning record of eight wins and four losses, including a victory over crosstown rival Bay High. The team competed well; yet still landed short of a play-off berth. Only three seniors were graduated from this club, and though their absence will be noticed, the team possesses the depth and skill to be a play-off contender next season.

Outstanding performance by both Brian Brooks and Trey Kidd was recognized by the District Eight coaches, and Noah Denson's superior skill as a defender led him to be chosen to represent Stanislaus on the Mississippi All-South Team.

Varsity Track

This past year, The Rock-A-Chaw thinclads placed first in district, first in South State, and third in State. This is easily the finest year SSC has enjoyed in track and field. The Rocks also managed to accomplish something that had not been done before — this is the third consecutive year the Rocks placed first in district. Three year coach Larry Ramsey has obviously contributed to the track team's success, aided by Andy Kivlan and Harry Hull. As far as how many records were set this year, how much paper do you have?

District Records:

Galen Smith: Triple Jump — 44'6¼"

Gary Ponthieux: Pole Vault — 12'0"

Chris Reisch: 100M Dash — 10.77 seconds

200M Dash — 22.21 seconds

Brian Brooks: 800M Run — 2:05.43

1600M Run — 4:34.56

3200M Run — 9:54.99

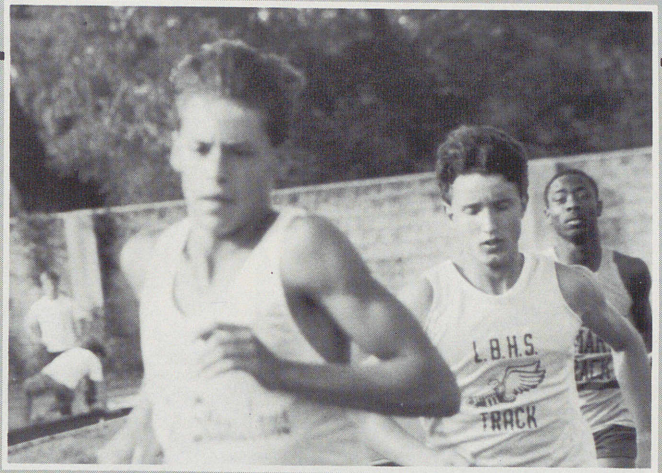

400M Relay (Mickey Quinlan, Chris Schenker, Chris Reisch, Shannon Garrett) — 44.78 seconds

800M Relay (Mickey Quinlan, Paul Johnson, Chris Reisch, Shannon Garrett) — 4:32.68 minutes

State Records:

Chris Reisch, 200M — 21.90 seconds. Chris Reisch also placed first in a Meet of Champions. In the 200M dash he beat the best in Mississippi. Brian Brooks was named best in state in 1990. Both Reisch and Brooks will return next year. Shannon Garrett and Gary Ponthieux will be sorely missed after this year. However, even with those two shining members of our team missing, future prospects look extremely bright.

Varsity Tennis

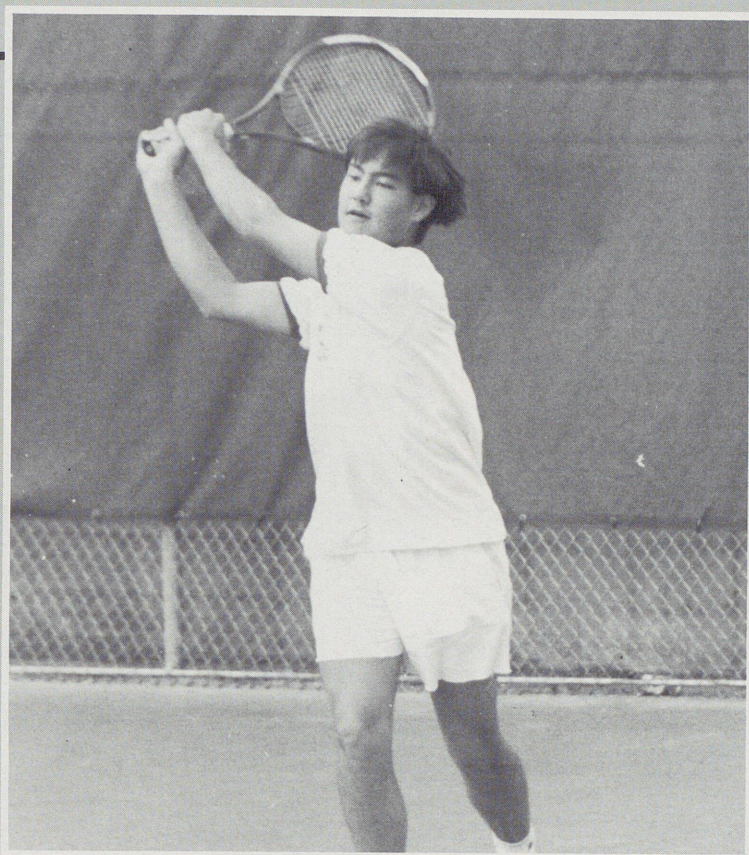

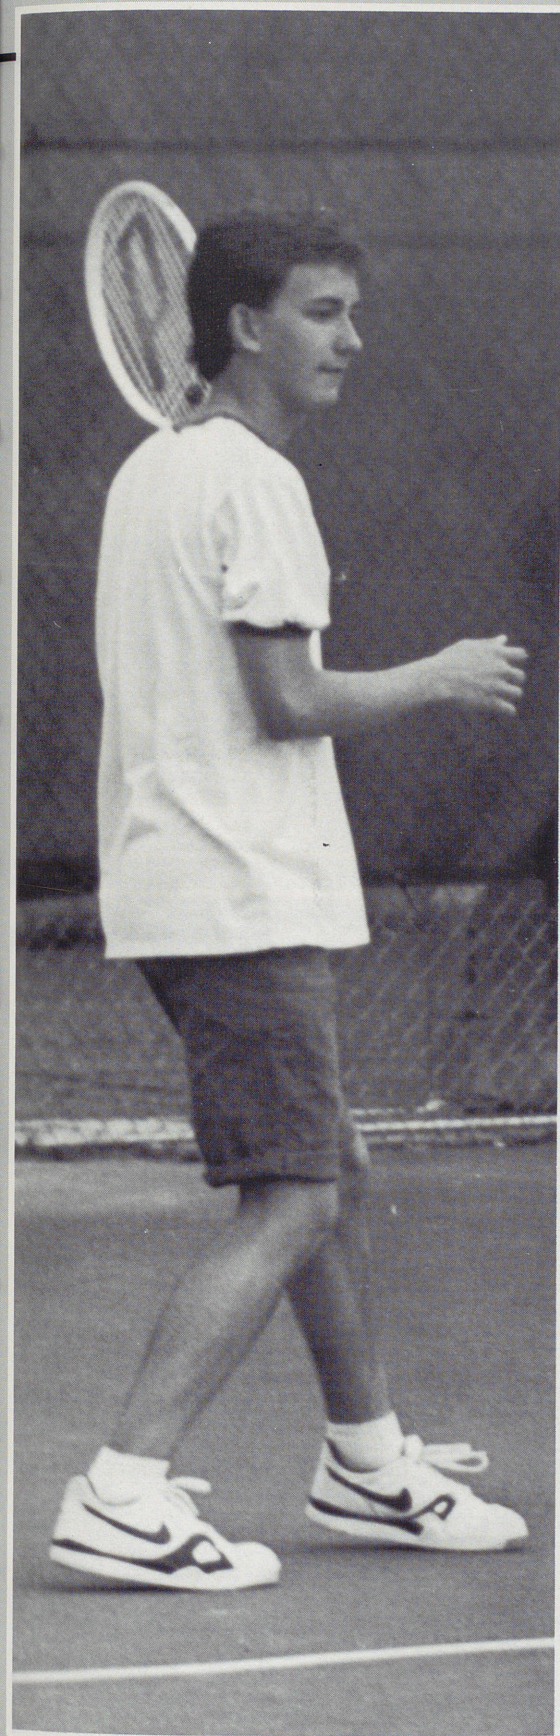

The combined Saint Stanislaus/Our Lady's Academy Varsity Tennis Team had a very fulfilling season which included important defeats of the Gulfport Admirals, saint John's Eagles and Bay High Tigers, just to name a few.

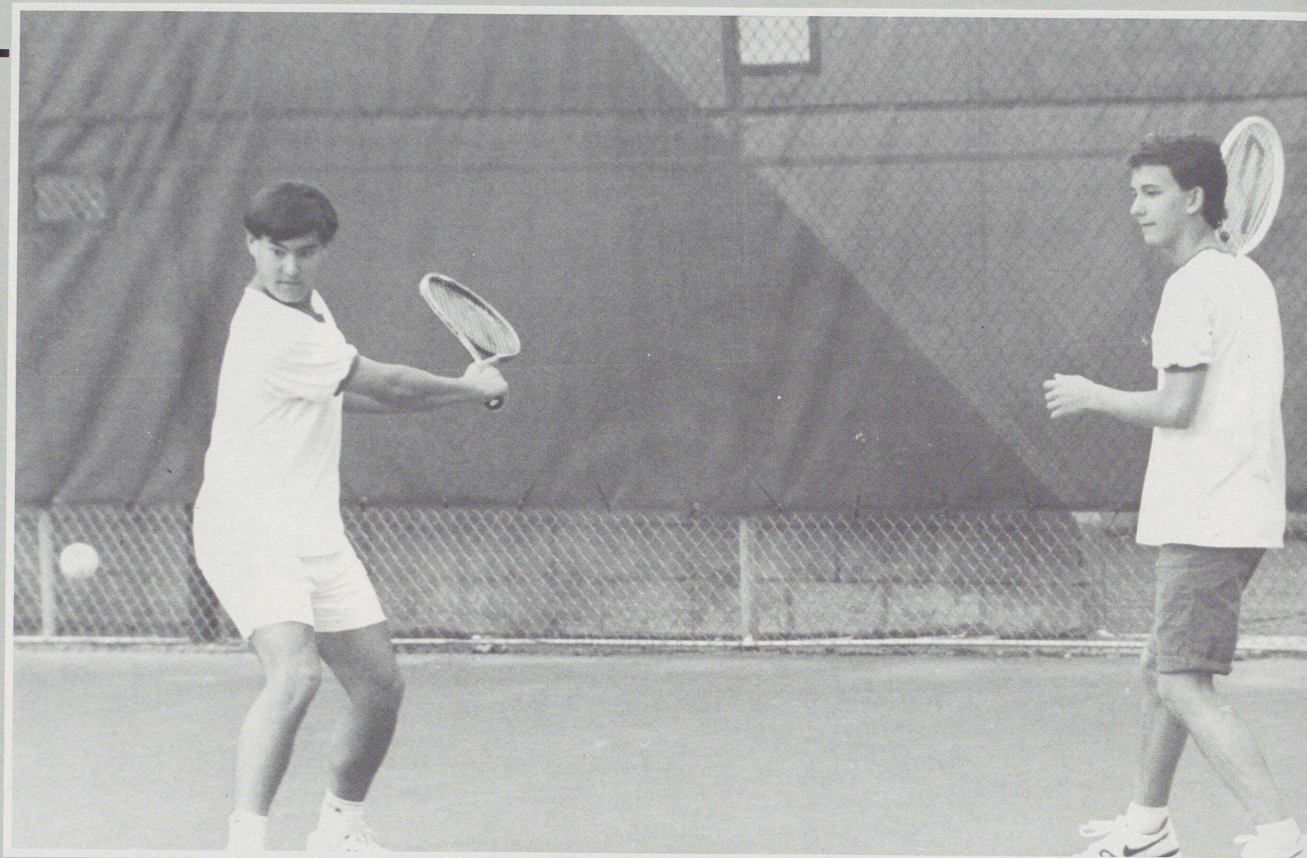

Mister Myron Labat was the head coach of tennis. He was assisted by ex-Wimbelton player, Bill Conery.

Members of the 1990 Saint Stanislaus Varsity Tennis Team are the following: Roberto Jimenez, Stanley Chapman, Myron Labat Jr., Brandon Terry (manager), Mylon Labat (mascot), Mark Schutt, Craig Christopher, Mike Cromwell, Micheal Cromwell and Myron Labat Jr. proved to be very valuable contenders in the world of high school tennis.

Varsity Baseball

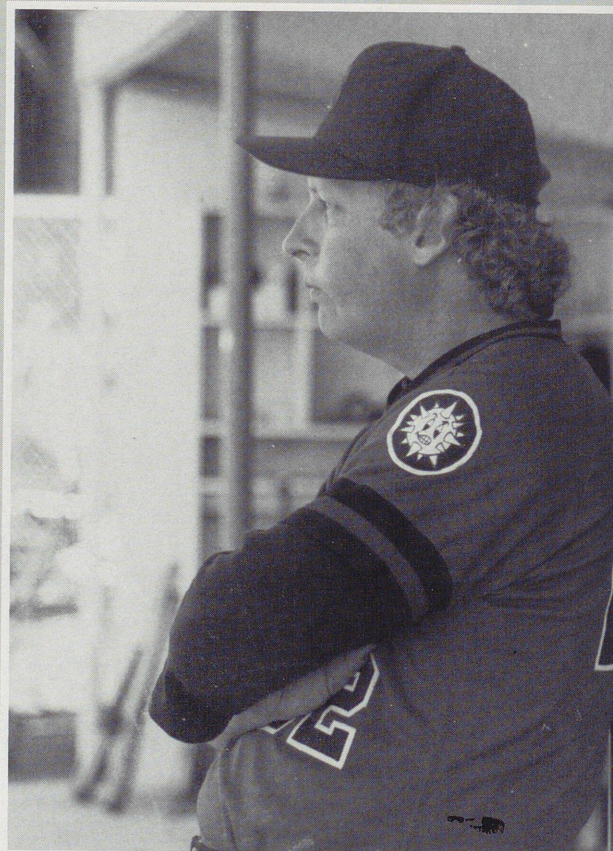

The SSC boys of summer enjoyed yet another successful season, The Rocks placed second in district play for the third consecutive year. First year head coach Jerry Spell led the diamond demons along with assistant coaches Mick Quinlan and Rory Rafferty.

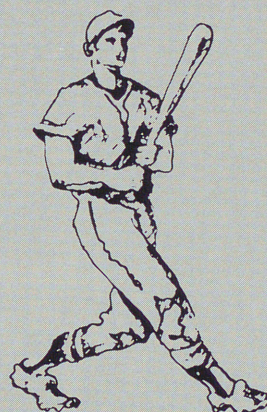

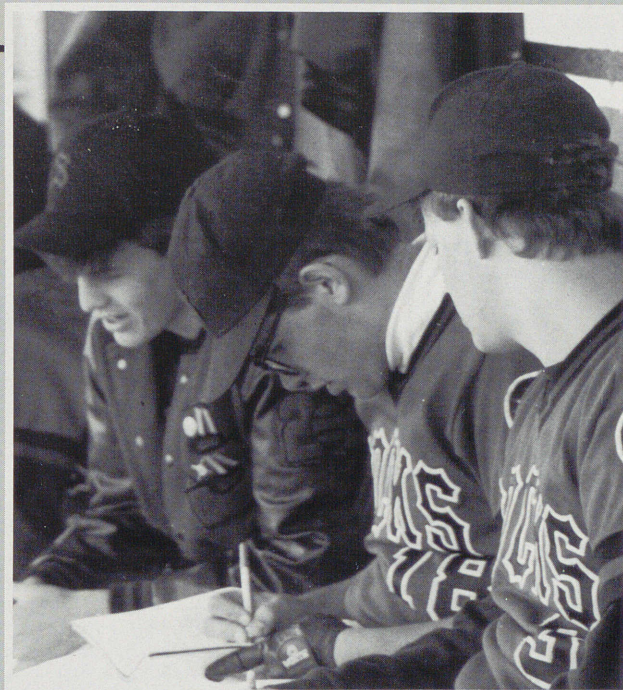

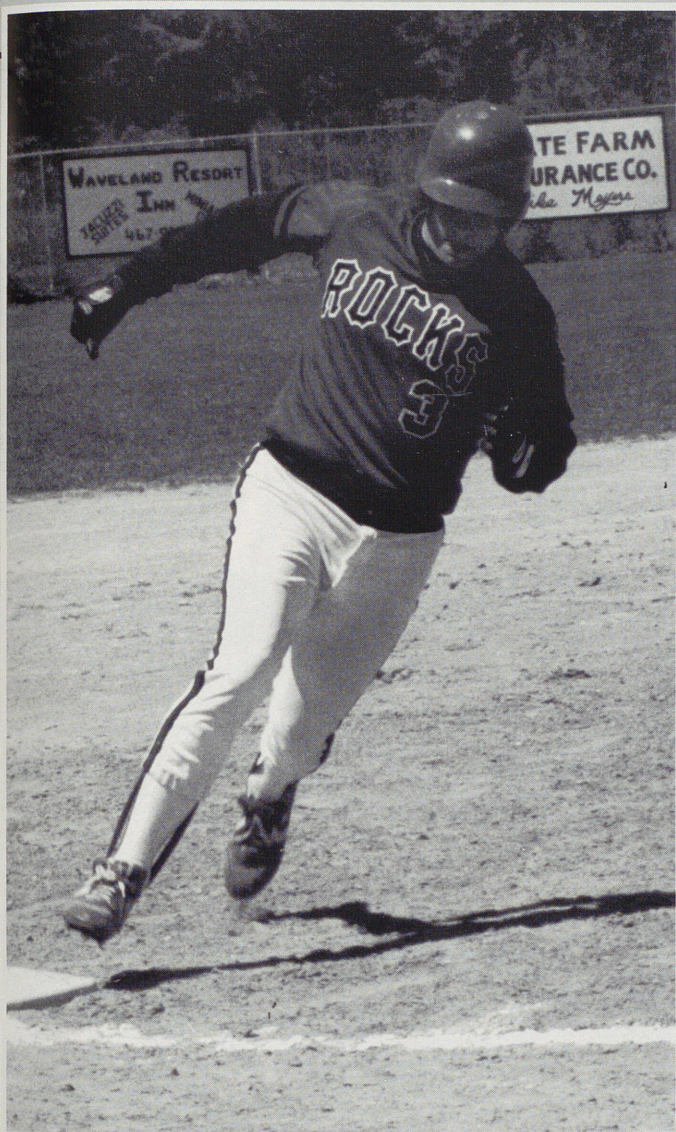

Highlights of the season included a two game sweep of both D'iberville and St. Martin, two long time division rivals. The Rocks also played well against Louisiana baseball powerhouses Rumel and Bonnabel, as well as Mississippi's finest, such as Long Beach and Biloxi. Cedric Smith and Greg Schruff provided a solid pitching attack and swung hot bats for the Rock-a-Chaws this season. Kevin Jacobi, Adam Breerwood, Scott Peterson, and Robbie Bishop also provided strong hitting for SSC. Steve Schruff, Terrel LaFontaine and Scott Niolet helped both the Varsity and Junior Varsity programs achieve victory.

Cedric Smith, Greg Schruff, Scott Peterson, Kevin Jacobi, and Mickey Quinlan were selected to the All-District team. Robbie Bishop and Adam Breerwood were named All-District honorable mention. Greg Schruff and Cedric Smith were named to post-season All-Star teams where they got the opportunity to show their talents to college and professional baseball scouts.

The Rocks will be led by a new coach next year, Mr. Ourso, from Morgan City, Louisiana, who led his team to the state semi-finals last year. With the prospects he has to work with at SSC, could a state title be just around the corner?

Varsity Golf

TOP: The SSC Varsity Golf Team

Do the terms fore, bogie, birdie, par, trap, slice or hook sound familiar to you? If they do, then you must be a fan of the game called Golf.

To many people, the game looks easy. After all, it's simply a matter of hitting a little white ball into a little hole with a little stick. Sounds easy enough, huh? However, if you have ever attempted to putt one of those little sticks, you know that it isn't as easy as it looks. For many people, sinking a putt at "the Windmill" down at the local goofy-golf course is as close to being Arnold Palmer as they will ever get.

For the members of the SSC Golf team and their coach, Mr. Chuck Genin, the game of golf is one full of enjoyment as well as frustration. Daily practices at the Diamondhead golf course allowed the players to better their games. Team members included Brian Eckrich, Mitch Montelaro, Vince Altese, Sean Cassidy, Heathe Warner, Ricardo Velasquez, Troy Schwant, and Charlie Nelson.

At the end of the season, Coach Genin said, "I would like to thank the players for their dedication to the game and their cooperation all season."

DORM LIFE

Dorm Life

The boarding environment provides many opportunities for growth. The boarders grow closer through sharing rooms and participation in group activities such as intramurals, clubs, and games in the rec hall.

The boarders took part in the many school organizations and participated in dances, skateboarding, fishing rodeos, and many leisure activities.

With encouragement in Christianity and encouragement in social growth, the boarders were able to strengthen their ties with others in the dorms.

With the Resource Center being open for them and study periods, the boarders gained needed time to improve their schoolwork.

With their ties between others strengthened and increased social and intellectual growth, these boarding students are headed to be mature "Men of Character."

HONORS

Athletic Awards

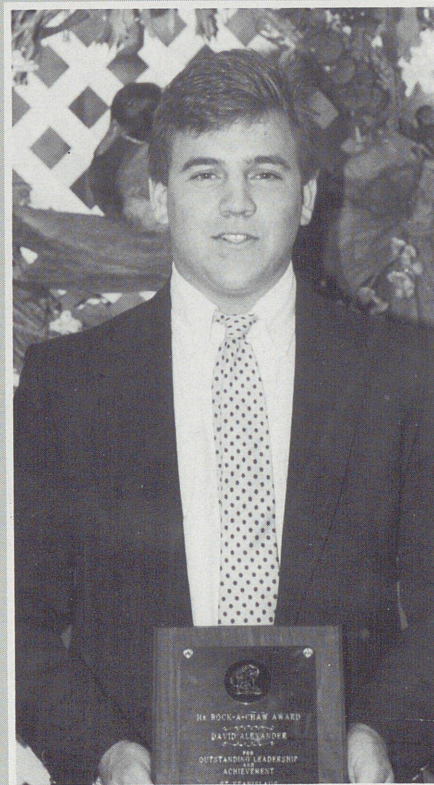

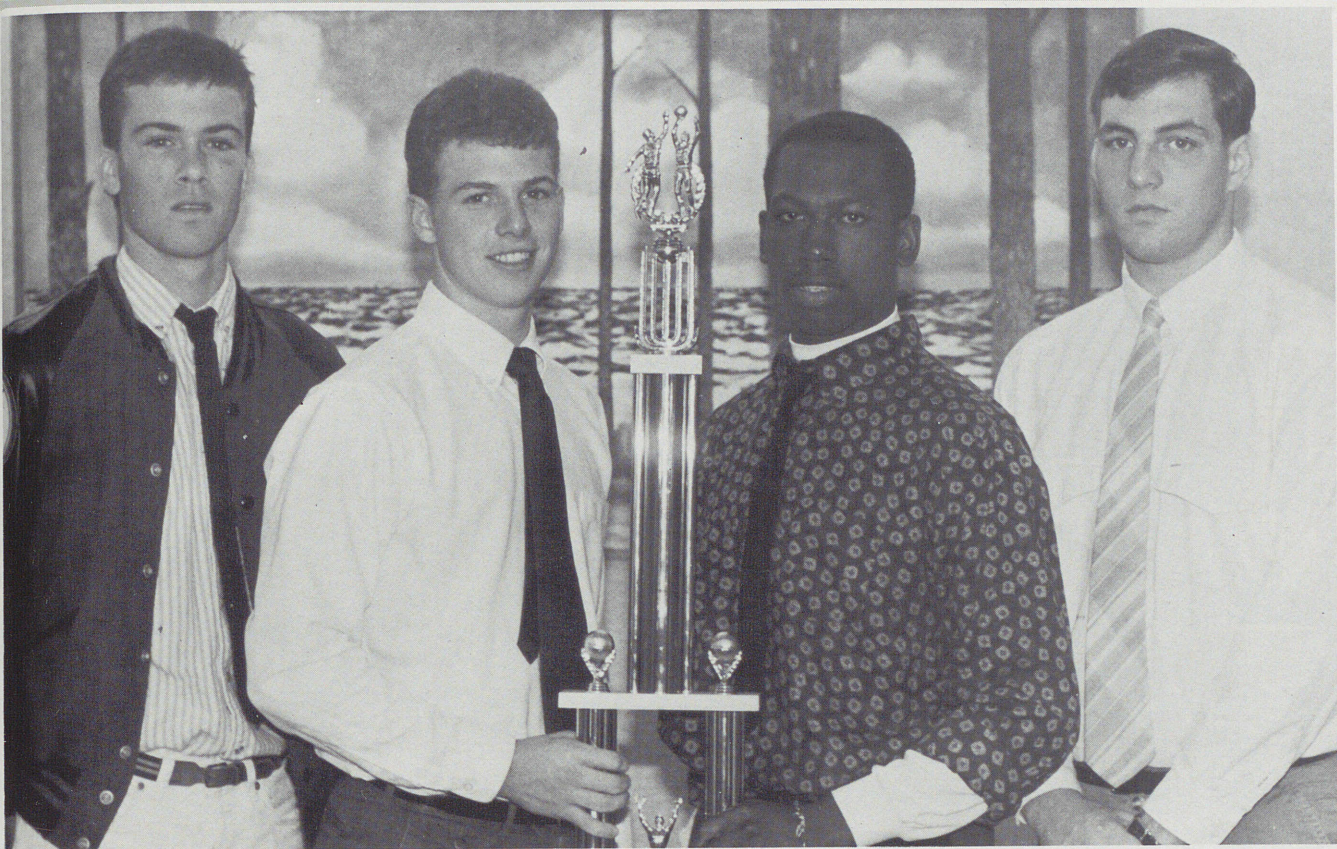

Tri-annually here at St. Stanislaus, various athletic teams gather in formal attire in order for various awards and honors to be bestowed upon those most deserving of them. All participants, varsity lettermen, scholar athletes, team captains, 2 year seniors, Mr. Rock-a-Chaws, coaches awards, and various personal achievements are recognized at these events.

The first banquet of the year honors the football team and its accomplishments on the gridiron. Around mid-year, the basketball and soccer teams celebrate the great moments and excelling players of their respective sports. And finally, in May, tennis, track, cross-country, golf, and baseball come together at the Spring Awards Banquet.

This year was an incredible year for the St. Stanislaus athletic teams as can be seen in the sports section of the yearbook. Many players excelled in their various sports as can be seen by the awards and their recipients pictured on this page.

Honors Convocation

The Twentieth Annual Honors Convocation ceremony was held May 7, 1990. This event is sponsored annually by the National Honor Society. The purpose of this ceremony is to recognize the top scholars in the school. It is also at this time that new members are inducted into the National Honor Society, French Honor Society, Spanish Honor Society and the Mu Alpha Theta Chapter.

The opening invocation was given by Michael Thomas, vice-president of the National Honor Society. Brother Paul Montero distributed the awards to the students.

Students who achieved membership on the President's Honor Roll were awarded a plaque of recognition for their work and superior grades. Also honored were members of the honor roll.

Michael Cromwell recognized for being editor-in-chief of the school newspaper, a member of the 1989-1990 graduating class and for being the Star Student for the 1989-1990 session. Noah Denson recognized for being named salutatorian of the 1989-1990 graduating class and for being a National Merit finalist. Cromwell and Denson were presented with special scholarship certificates of merit for being selected as school winners at St. Stanislaus in the National Honor Society Scholarship Program.

Character Awards

Many distinguished awards were awarded to a special few underclassmen whose relentless pursuit of excellence served as a reminder of the high standards of education offered here at St. Stanislaus.

Prefects awarded several honors to various boarding students which included the "Service Award", "Spirit Award," and the much sought after "Character Cup" which is the highest award that an underclassman can obtain. The "Service Award" is presented to students whose personal service to St. Stanislaus exceeds that of normal helpfulness.

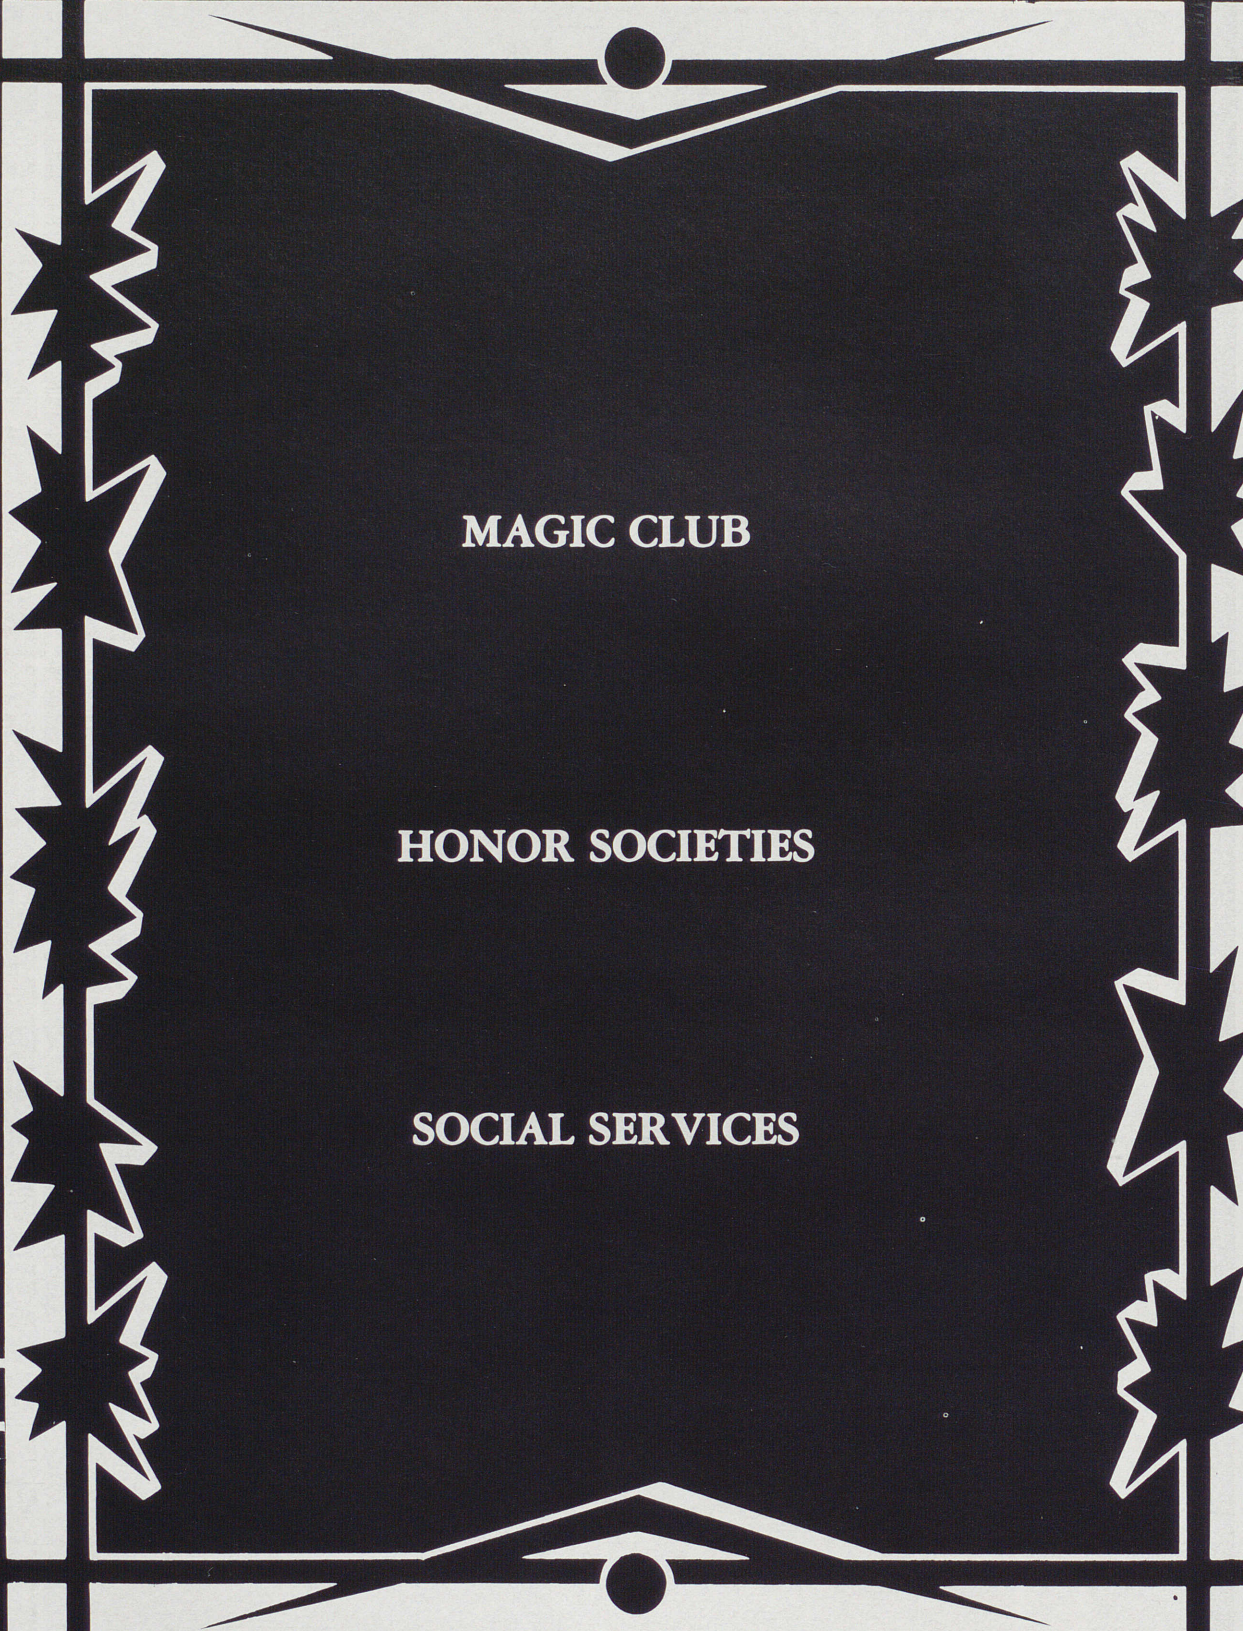

Students who receive the "Spirit Award" are those who express great enthusiasm in the school and in the St. Stanislaus family as a whole. The "Character Cup" is awarded to students who display outstanding qualities of leadership, cooperation, academic excellence, and dedication in serving as an example for fellow underclassmen.

During the eighth grade promotion ceremony, many awards were presented including the American Legion Award, the "Character Cup," and other such honors.

Character awards are not just simply given away. They are earned by young men at St. Stanislaus with their hard work, compassion, understanding, patience, generosity, friendliness, and brotherhood. These recipients work hard every day to be men of character.

MAGIC CLUB

If you would like to know how to pull a rabbit out of a hat, how to make coins travel through the air, how to cut a rope in half and then make it return into one, how to make live animals appear from thin air, and any other slights of hand, then you would be interested in the Magic Club here at St. Stanislaus. The Magic Club spent its time this year entertaining other members and the St. Stanislaus student body. The moderator, Brother Lee, can be seen around the campus performing magic tricks that are sure to entertain.

The members understand how to make "the hand quicker than the eye." Through much time spent practicing, and through the tutelage of the ever helpful hands of Brother Lee, they also understand that there is more than meets the eye in the tricks. Brother Lee and club president Stanley LeBlanc proved this every Thursday night.

Through his hard work, Brother Lee has turned out some fine magicians. Brother Lee feels that Magic is an excellent "ice-breaker" and makes many new friends with his use of it.

Honor Societies

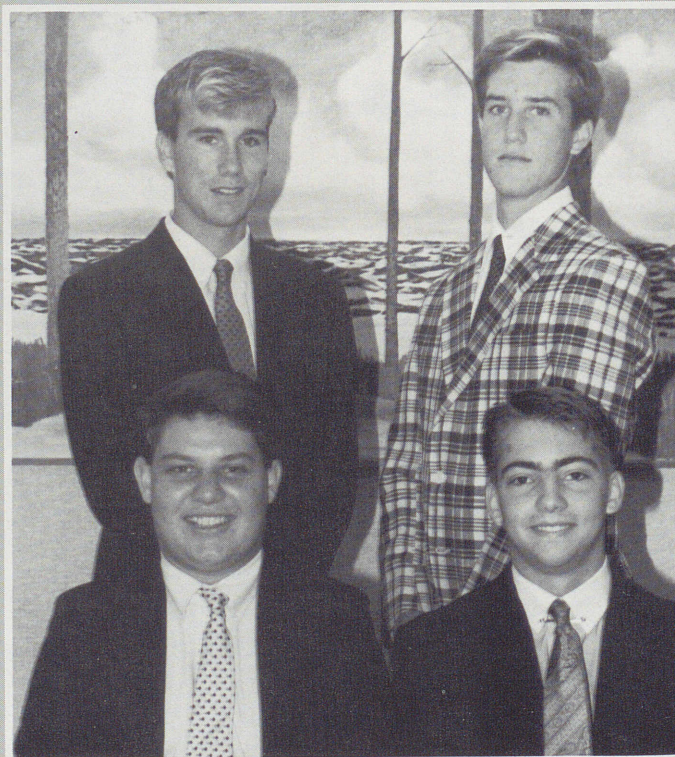

National Honor Society

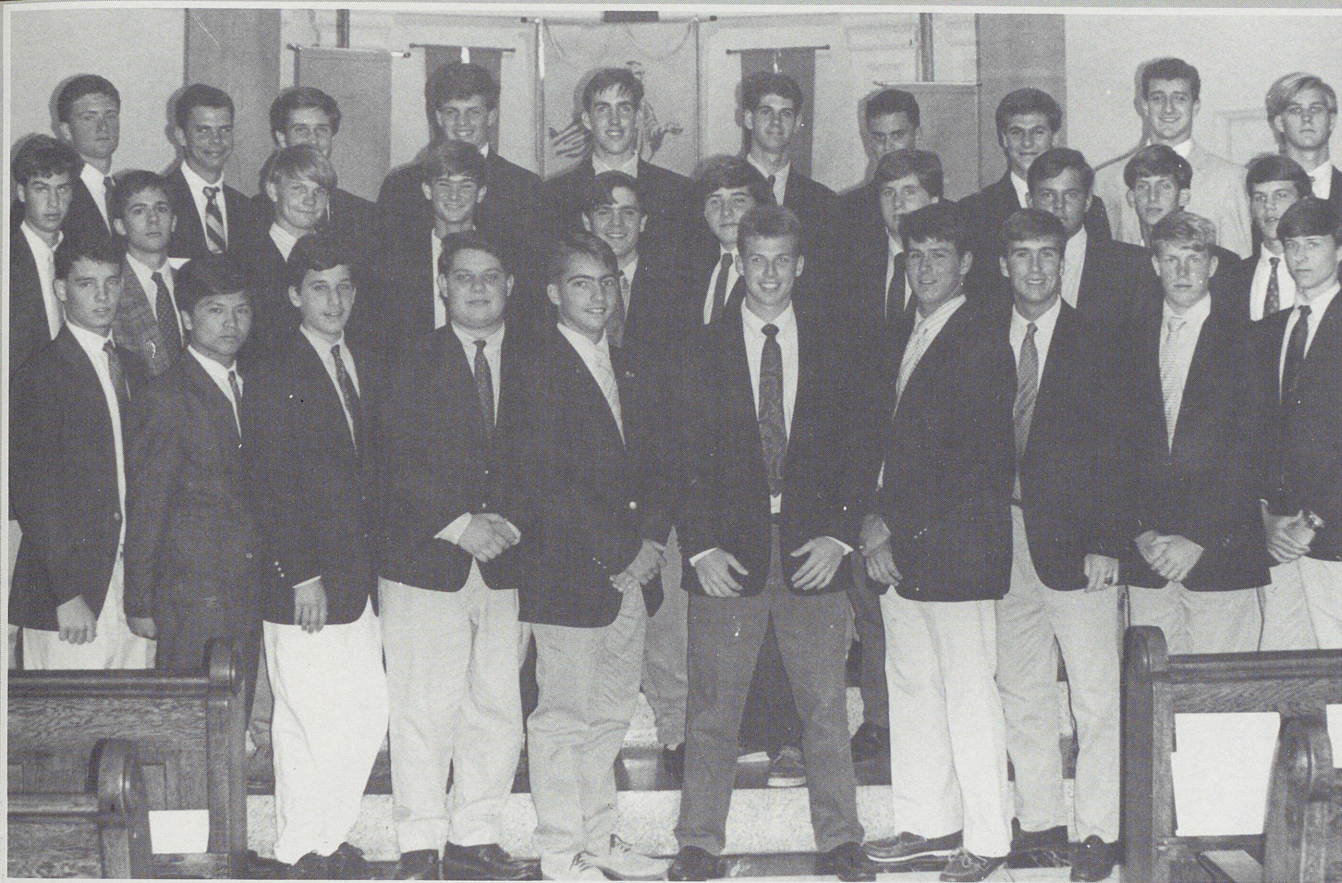

Are you having problems with your schoolwork? Can't keep those grades high enough to suit your parents? Could you use a little help in increasing your grade point average? If you answered yes to any one of these questions, then maybe you should take advantage of the tutorial services offered by the SSC chapter of the National Honor Society.

The National Honor Society, moderated by Mrs. Carolyn Cromwell, is a service organization geared toward excellence in academics, service to the school community, and recognition of those hardworking members who give their time and effort to help others attain better understanding of their studies.

The National Honor Society took part in many activities throughout the year. One of the most important of these activities was the tutorial services provided to other students who were having difficulties in certain subjects.

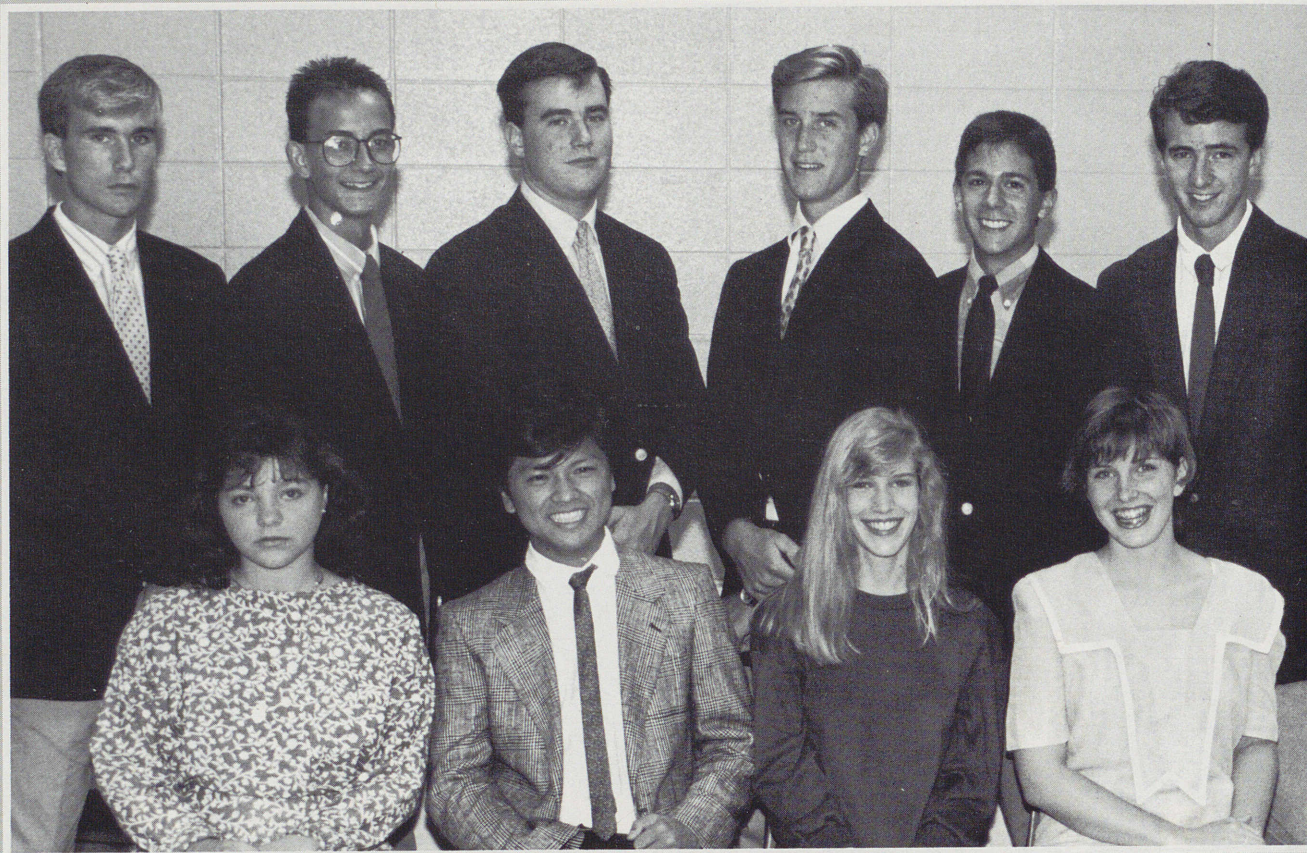

Mu Alpha Theta

Mu Alpha Theta is the newest honor society at St. Stanislaus. The Charter members proved that Mu Alpha Theta was not going to be an honor society in name only. Rather, Mu Alpha Theta members proved themselves to be most generous and active. Mu Alpha Theta is an organization designed to give credit to and develop the talents of those academically inclined in mathematics. One of the main projects of the SSC chapter of the Mu Alpha Theta Honor Society was to provide a tutorial program that was made available to all students. Thanks to the generous giving of time by the members, many students were able to achieve their personal academic goals by boosting their knowledge of mathematics and, therefore, boosting their grade point averages. The Mu Alpha Theta was placed under the able direction of Mrs. Carolyn Cromwell. Mrs. Cromwell was assisted by chapter president Do Nguyen.

French Honor Society

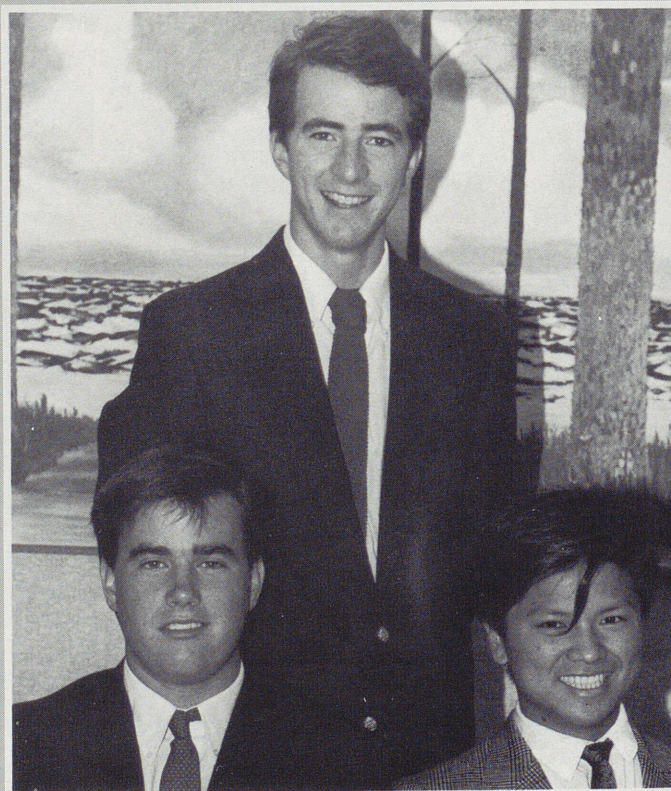

The French Honor Society has a vow to learn as much as possible about France, its language, and its culture. This year, the FHS strove to fulfill this pledge.

The year began with the induction ceremony in which 8 new members were inducted. Officers were elected soon afterward, and they are, Chris Kern, president; Mike Riten, vice-president; and Do Nguyen, secretary/treasurer.

Under the direction of moderator, Mr. Vernon LaCour, the FHS offered a tutoring service this year which was a success. The FHS also held a "fete internationale," (an international party) which was a great success. The FHS also had the immense pleasure of hosting some French foreign exchange students. They also used this time to learn more about France and its culture. The FHS's last activity of the year was an end of the year party which was held at the Scardino's home in Pass Christian.

Many other plans were made, but time would not allow most of them to go through. Mr. LaCour hopes that next year the FHS will be able to do many more activities.

Spanish Honor Society

The Gayoso Chapter of the Spanish Honor Society was reinstated at St. Stanislaus this year after a year long absence. At the second meeting, officers were elected. Scott Niolet was elected as president, Cindy Pitalo as vice president, Paul Johnson as secretary, and Wade Weidman as treasurer. Mr. Tom Ackerman served as moderator.

The Spanish Honor Society sponsored a Spanish meal at a local restaurant and took part in the International Night which proved to be a great success. Plans for next year include advanced Spanish studying program and a tutoring program to aid students having difficulty mastering the Spanish language.

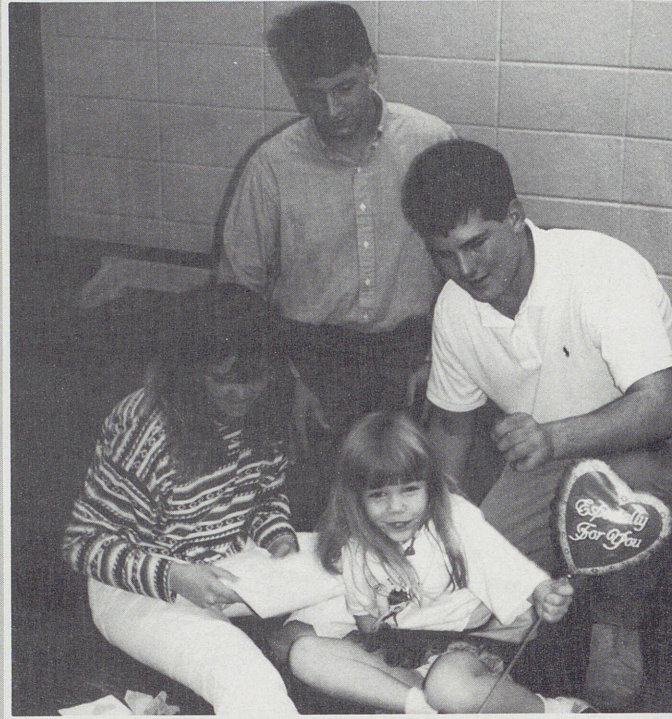

Social Services

For as long as many of us can remember, Brother Canisius has been taking groups of students to many different places to social work for what is known as the St. Stanislaus Social Services Program or Project Do. Project Do is a way for students to reach out to the elderly at Hotel Reed Home for the Aged, the children at the Hancock County Child Development Center, and the kindergarden at Bay Catholic Elementary.

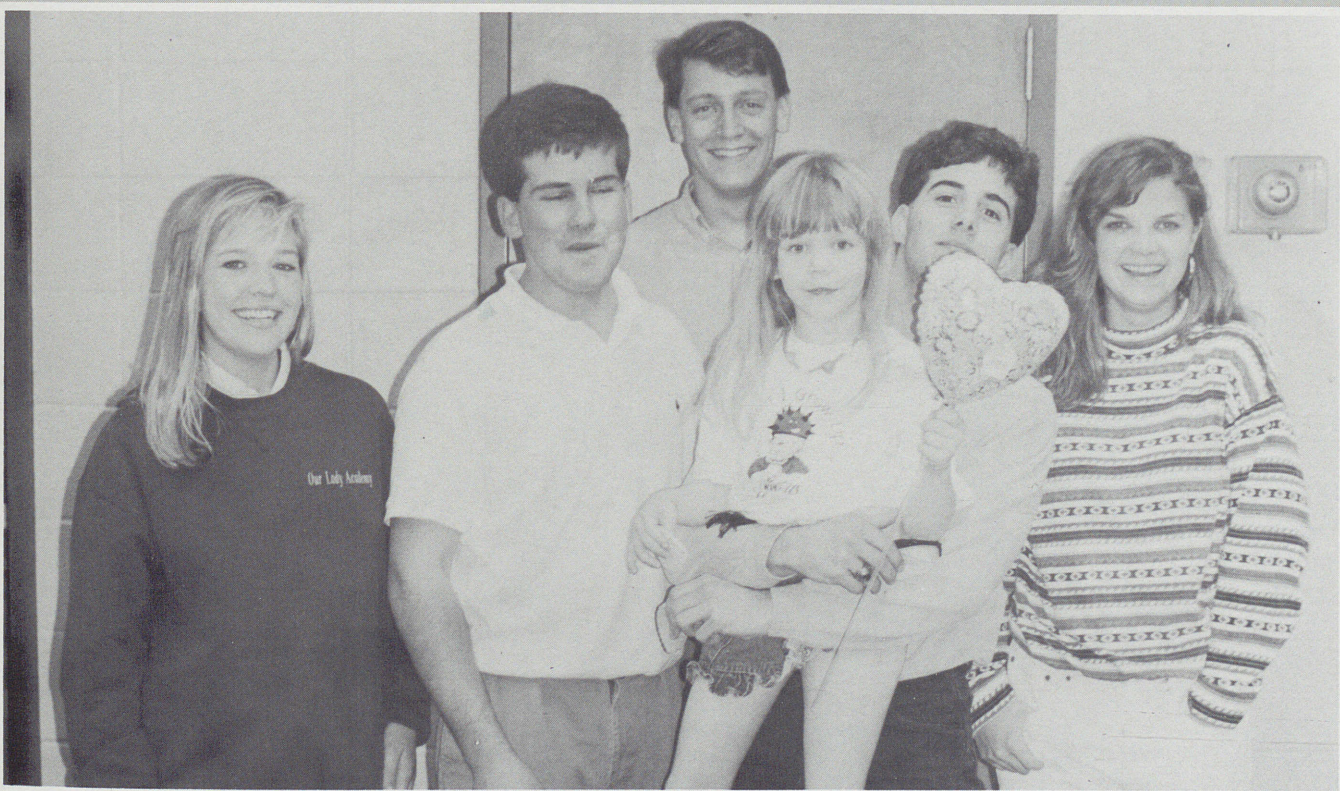

Project Do in its many parts, whether it be with the young or the old, helps a volunteer grow as a Christian and put the Christian values into practice. The Social Services programs here at St. Stanislaus helps to enrich the young men who choose to participate in the group's activities. The programs teach them patience in order to cope with some of the problems that surface at the nursing home or the kindergarden. It teaches them kindness toward others in their time of need or to just be a good listener when the time is right. These practices are especially helpful to the Seniors, who, as it being their last year of high school, need this picture to help them through their life ahead.

Project Lizzie participants say that they have gotten much more out of their involvement in the program than they have put in. Project Do, Project Lizzie, and all of the other "projects" that Brother Canisius has been involved in over the years have touched many people in a very special way.

To the son that is more than enough. He has lived the teachings of our Lord through the Holy Word. Ron's life has been a living testimony of what a yielded vessel here on earth may become in serving our Lord. We as a family "Shout!" the praise not only to our God but to our brothers and sisters in Christ at St. Stanislaus. For truly, the following scripture may shed a light upon our little family of St. Stanislaus, "When you have done it to the least of my brethren (Ron), you have done it unto me (our Lord)." You all have a great part in the person Ron has become. Our loving kindness to all who cared and loved Ron dearly. Ron, may your dreams ever hold true. We honor you on your graduation day.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

"Reflections are wondrous things." We opened our book with that statement. And, it is a very true statement. Reflections are wondrous things.

As I sit here reflecting back upon the past year, I feel I must acknowledge the invaluable assistance provided to the production of Reflections '90 by some very kind, generous, and thoughtful people.

First, and foremost, I want to thank Chris Kern, our Editor-in-Chief. Chris was the driving force behind the production of this book, always getting the other staff members fired up, on task, and keeping them there. Chris graduated this year and will be missed next year.

Next, I would like to thank the other Staff editors — Cliff Ling, Stanley LeBlanc, Jimmy Watts, Mansel Bell, and Chris Kohl. In addition I would like to thank these contributing editors — Lee McKee, Scott Niolet, Charlie Hillyer, John Cichon, Ritten, Wayne Murphy, Seth Lavoie, and Cliff Pope.

In addition, I would like to acknowledge the contributions and assistance provided by the following individuals — Brother Montero; Mr. Pat Palmer; Mr. Bill Franklin; Brother Eduardo Baldioceda; Mrs. Dolores Richmond; Mrs. Beverly Zimmerman; Gina Bolian; Mrs. Susan Hoda; Mrs. Laurin LaFontaine; Mrs. Ann Kortman; Mrs. Linda Knight; Mr. Bill Jennings; Brother Gauthier; Mrs. Dee Cichon; Ms. Janet Marengo of Marengo Photography; and Cedar Haven Antiques. I would also like to acknowledge the staff and editors of our school newspaper, The Rock-A-Chaw, who allowed us to "steal" some of their work. In addition, I would like to thank the staff and editors of The Sea Coast Echo and The Sun Herald newspapers for their contributions.

Also, I would especially like to acknowledge Brother Robert LeBlanc as the photographer responsible for the beautiful photos of Bay St. Louis which we chose to use as part of our cover.

I would like to thank Mr. Tom Ackerman and his very talented photography staff — Stanley LeBlanc, George Holder, and Delgado. Mr. Ackerman and his staff put in many long hours to cover all of the St. Stanislaus events for us.

And, finally, I would like to thank my wife, Monique, and the twins, Will and Walt, who have been widow and orphan for the past year while I was barricaded in my study "yearbooking." They have been very understanding and patient.

Reflections are wondrous things. The reflection of the moonlight on the water of the Bay; the reflection of a beautiful sunrise as you look off the end of the Stanislaus pier; the reflection of a father in his son; the reflection of a mother in her daughter; the reflection of the teacher in the student; glimpses in the adult of the child that he once was; the reflections of our own thoughts and actions; and the reflection of God in our fellow man. Reflections are wondrous things.

I hope you enjoy the book, Reflections '90 now and for years to come.

Will Clingon
